POSTPONEMENT OF HEARING STAYS EXECUTION OF MOON UNTIL 18TH OF NOVEMBER

Pittsburgh (AP)—A hearing in U. S. District Court to determine whether the constitutional rights of convicted slayer Norman Moon have been violated was continued today until Oct. 3.

Moon's execution, originally scheduled for next Monday, was stayed when the defense motion was filed in the Federal Court last Friday. The stay order was signed by Judge John L. Miller.

Three judges agreed this morning to continue the hearing at the request of commonwealth counsel and with approval of attorneys for Moon. The judges are Herbert Sorg, John McIlvane and Rabe F. Marsh Jr.

Atty. Robert A. Jarvis, representing the state, said the attorney general will further recommend that Gov. Leader stay the execution until at least Nov. 18.

In requesting the delay, Jarvis told the court that an appeal filed with the State Parole Board is still pending and any hearing in District Court should await a ruling. He said the ruling is expected shortly.

Jarvis also requested the delay on grounds that Dep. Atty. Gen. Frank Lawley, who has been designated to represent the commonwealth, was unable to appear.

In approving the state's motion for continuance, defense Atty. Louis C. Glassco told the court he has assurance from the attorney general that the state will allow sufficient time for Moon's counsel to employ all legal efforts.

The appeal was filed in U. S. District Court on the basis that Moon is mentally ill and that the 14th Amendment to the Constitution prohibits execution of a mentally ill person.

Moon was convicted and sentenced to death for the courtroom slaying of Warren County Judge Allison D. Wade on Jan. 13, 1954. Moon was in court at the time on a non-support charge.

Graham Declares Everywhere In World Has Race Problems

Garden City, N. Y. (AP)—Everywhere in the world there are race problems, says evangelist Billy Graham. And everywhere, he maintains, the real solution lies not in laws but in the individual human heart.

The 38-year-old North Carolinian who has carried his evangelistic message to people of many different colors in widely different parts of the earth, said last night that he found race relations a problem everywhere he has traveled.

"I've seen them wherever I've been," he told 10,000 people at the Roosevelt Field shopping center in this Long Island community.

"They are wherever people look different and talk different."

He added, "I honestly don't think any of us here can point a self-righteous finger at Little Rock."

The Southern Baptist minister, whose New York crusade meetings in Madison Square Garden and elsewhere in the city drew a total audience of more than two million persons, began a short speaking tour of suburban New York areas with last night's service.

At a news conference before the service, Graham was asked about the Little Rock situation.

"This is a time for prayer and love and charity," he said. "The gospel of Christ is the answer. You can't legislate morals. This has got to come from the heart."

Plans Are Jelling for Red Leaf Rally Oct. 6

The Auto Sports Club, of Warren, Inc., is completing its plans for the Fifth Annual Red Leaf Rally which is to be held October 6, 1957.

This rally is one of the largest held for sports cars in the United States and attracts a large number of interesting and unusual entries from Canada as well as from cities and towns surrounding the Warren area.

Entries are being limited to 225, and with the cooperation of the weatherman it is hoped that this will be one of the most successful rallies held by the ASC.

Regular monthly meeting of the Auto Sports Club, Inc., of Warren, Pa., will be held at the American Legion Home in Warren on Tuesday, October 1, 1957, at 8:30 p. m.

Survivors Tell Dramatic Tales Of Last Hours of 'Windjammer'

London, (AP)—A dramatic account of the last hours of the German windjammer Pamir was received today as a great air-sea search for survivors was abandoned.

Only six of the crew of 86 has been found since the four-master went down in Hurricane Carrie off the Azores Saturday.

Convinced that no more of the crew could have survived the fury of the storm, the U. S. Coast Guard announced the search abandoned.

Only a few planes will stay in that area until the last ship leaves, the U. S. Air Force said. At least 13 planes and 10 ships took part in the search.

Only Few Wet Spots Reported in Nation

By The Associated Press
The nation's weather showed only little change today, with only a few wet spots and more heavy rain in southern Texas.

Rainfall measured up to 9 inches in south Texas areas yesterday for a total of 15 inches since Sunday. Up to 5 inches of rain drenched parts of San Antonio, with falls since Sunday amounting to 8½ inches.

Some 300 persons were forced from their homes. Overflow of the San Antonio River and tributaries.

United Nations, N. Y. (AP)—Nationalist China told the United Nations today the Red mainland is gripped by unrest that may flare into a revolt like the Hungarian uprising. The Communist regime was described as shaky.

In a speech prepared for delivery at the 82-nation General Assembly, China's Hu Shih declared events in Hungary touched off two major anti-Communist movements on the mainland in the past few months.

One movement led by student groups nearly resulted in paralyzing Peking and Shanghai with a general strike, he said, but Red authorities were tipped off and checked it by arresting ringleaders.

"It is absolutely untrue that the Communist regime in China has won over the mind and the heart of the young," Hu declared.

"What happened in Hungary last October has proven beyond doubt that the young students and workers of Hungary have not been captivated by fully 10 years of Communist rule and indoctrination."

Recent events, he added, prove that "after eight years of absolute rule and ideological molding, the students in China are almost unanimously in opposition to the Communist party and government."

Hu said the Hungarian uprising has had a profound effect on the Chinese people as a whole.

He gave this account of recent events on the mainland:

An anti-Red movement erupted last June among five million students in schools and universities throughout the mainland.

Within a week, the movement threatened to develop into a violent uprising and Red authorities took repressive steps in all the schools and colleges. Ringleaders were arrested and rallies banned.

Butler County Yegg Gets Away With About $1,500

Butler (AP)—A 60-year-old Butler County woman told police that a man entered her home at Harmony yesterday, hit her over the left eye and fled with $1,500.

Mrs. Emery Shisler, who was not hurt seriously, was found semi-conscious on the kitchen floor by her husband on his return from work.

She told state police the man struck her as she entered the kitchen from the basement stairs. She was unable to say whether the man was armed or what he hit her with.

Mrs. Shisler said she had withdrawn the money from a bank only a few hours earlier. It was to have been used for improvements to the house.

Man Guilty of Extortion Being Sued for $81,274

Pittsburgh (AP)—A Pittsburgh labor leader who was convicted of extorting $31,274 from a contractor has been sued for $81,274 by the contractor.

The suit was filed yesterday against Nick Strone by William G. Rider, a ready-mix concrete contractor now in bankruptcy.

It contends Rider was forced to pay Strone 50 cents a cubic yard to insure concrete shipments to a construction job in Allentown.

Strone has appealed his conviction. He is president of the Laborers District Council, Western Pennsylvania Engineering and Highway Construction Council and Common Laborers Local 1058.

HOME COMING HALFTIME TO BE CEREMONIOUS

Warren High School Band Director Harry Summers said today that halftime ceremonies would be colorful during the Warren-Titusville Homecoming game on Memorial Field Saturday. Gametime is 1:30 p. m. A survivor's account of the Pamir's last moments was received in London from the Geiger.

The report quoted Karl Otto Dummer, 24, the Pamir's baker and oldest survivor, as saying:

"Being the oldest of the group I was looked upon by the other men to be the leader. I decided to take charge and openly prayed to God before the other men that what I was doing and would do was the right thing. During our ordeal there was no panic on the Pamir and the men were well-disciplined. Each one's concern was for the other and not himself."

UNREST GRIPS RED COUNTRY CHINA STATES

Excitement in Indiana When Officials Shot

Indiana, Pa. (AP)—An excited lady rushed into the office of the Indiana Gazette anxious to learn details of what she said "must have been a bad accident."

"I saw at least two plainclothesmen and two uniformed policemen in front of the doctor's office," she told a Gazette reporter yesterday.

A call to the Police Department brought the information that every member of the force had been shot... with Asian flu vaccine.

Number Flu Cases Reported Soaring Fast in Country

Washington (AP)—The Public Health Service said today the number of Asian flu cases apparently is going up rapidly in this country.

A spokesman said there are increasing reports of outbreaks in schools and colleges in various sections.

The service's weekly summary of reports from individual states will be made public tomorrow, and in the meantime there was no numerical estimate of how many cases there have been. Last week's estimated cumulative total was about 100,000.

Other Public Health Service officials said that release of additional Asian flu vaccine is expected in the next few days, with the volume expected to increase steadily in the next few weeks.

They said nothing had developed to alter the estimate that 85 million doses will have been released by the end of the year. The total cleared thus far has been 6,957,032 doses, although an initial goal had been the release of 8 million doses by September.

Persistence Finally Pays Off for Police Fingerprint Expert

Pittsburgh, (AP)—The persistence of a police fingerprint expert was credited today with the arrest of a man who detectives say has admitted the bludgeoning-slaying of a laundry night watchman.

Charles W. Jones, 27, of Pittsburgh, was arrested at his home yesterday. After several hours of questioning detectives said Jones broke down and confessed the fatal beating of George Wojnar, 65, last Aug. 16.

Police officials were high in their praise of patrolman Joseph Wallace who took hundreds of fingerprints home each night until he finally matched one found at the scene of the slaying and one alleged to be Jones.

Detectives said Jones at first implicated two men in the holdup of the Metropolitan Laundries and Black's Linen Service where Wojnar worked as a watchman. Jones finally admitted in a statement he alone had entered the laundry, they said.

ACCUSED IN HOLDUP

Pittsburgh, (AP)—An Allegheny County grand jury indictment accuses three Pittsburgh men of the $47,000 holdup last Jan. 29 of the Hays Branch of Peoples First National Bank. Named in the indictment handed down yesterday were Paul Woods, 27; John Ward, 30; and James Herron, 22. John McCann 21, a fourth suspect in the case, was shot to death two weeks ago in a police chase on the city's north side. The money has not been recovered.

WASHINGTON (AP)—If the Forest Service carries out its plot, the bachelor days of Smokey the Bear are numbered.

Right now, officials of the service are making plans for a new home for the popular fire-fighting bruin at the Washington Zoo. And the plans, complete to an artist's sketch, include accommodations for a Mrs. Smokey.

How Smokey's legion of youthful admirers—he receives up to 2,000 letters a day—are going to react to this bit of news is something that the Forest Service isn't discussing publicly.

Nor has the service yet picked any mate for Smokey, a 7-year-old black bear of the "cinnamon" phase. Officials would prefer that his prospective mate be of the same strain, possibly 4 or 5 years old.

She may even be of Canadian origin, since the Canadians, too, have taken up Smokey as a symbol of forest fire control.

Smokey has lived in conventional caged quarters since he was brought to Washington in 1950 after being rescued, a badly burned and frightened cub, from a fire-devastated area of the Lincoln National Forest in New Mexico. It was this experience that led the Forest Service to make him the popular symbol of a drive to save the nation's forest lands from fire.

The idea now is to provide him with as natural a home as possible. His quarters would be landscaped to resemble a bit of the wilderness. There would be no bars, but a moat would separate him from visitors.

WITHDRAWAL OF TROOPS AT LITTLE ROCK IS SOUGHT BY EXECUTIVES OF FIVE STATES

Newport, R. I. (AP)—President Eisenhower today arranged a Washington conference for next Tuesday with a committee of Southern governor seeking withdrawal of federal troops enforcing school integration at Little Rock, Ark.

His headquarters here left open the possibility he may end his Newport vacation at that time.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, announced the President will fly back to Washington for the Tuesday meeting with five Southern governors. They requested a conference in a message to Eisenhower yesterday.

Asked whether Eisenhower plans to return to Newport after the meeting, Hagerty replied: "I have no knowledge on that one way or the other."

Asked then whether there is a chance the President will end his vacation at that time, Hagerty said: "That is a chance, but I don't know for sure."

Collins is chairman of the Southern Governors Conference.

The governors had asked Eisenhower for an opportunity to discuss specifically the situation at Little Rock where federal troops have been ordered by the President to enforce a federal court school integration edict.

In his telegram, the President spoke of school integration problems generally.

Asked whether that means Eisenhower wants to broaden the scope of the Tuesday session beyond the Little Rock situation, Hagerty replied without elaboration: "I would say 'Yes.'"

Hagerty also told a news conference that an Eisenhower aide, Max Rabb, had received a telegram from Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-N.Y.), a Negro, urging that the President agree to see the Southern governors.

Eisenhower last week granted Powell's request for a meeting to discuss the Negro point of view in the integration crisis. No date has been set for that meeting.

The President's vacation headquarters said late yesterday he readily agreed when the governors requested a meeting. They did so in an 11-1 vote at the Southern Governors Conference at Sea Island, Ga.

But while Eisenhower is ready to confer and hopeful that the session will contribute to solution of integration troubles, there is no indication whatever that he will agree to removal of troops from Little Rock until he is convinced the danger of mob violence has subsided.

Nine Negro pupils were escorted to and from classes yesterday by bayonet-carrying soldiers of the 101st Airborne Division. At the Newport White House, press secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower "thought it was good" that the children went to classes.

Fast Time to End in Some Sections Sunday

By The Associated Press
Daylight saving time ends in some sections of the nation at 2 a. m. this Sunday, but many other areas will keep it another month.

In a few places the closing date for daylight time came earlier, and most of the South and West had no daylight time this summer.

In still other areas, daylight time is officially or unofficially a year-round affair—a movement that seems to be spreading, but slowly.

New England, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, the District of Columbia and its suburbs; most of Maryland; half of Pennsylvania including Philadelphia and Pittsburgh; and a number of scattered areas, including Chicago, St. Louis and Louisville, will remain on daylight time until Oct. 27.

Student Prices Announced For 'Ten Commandments'

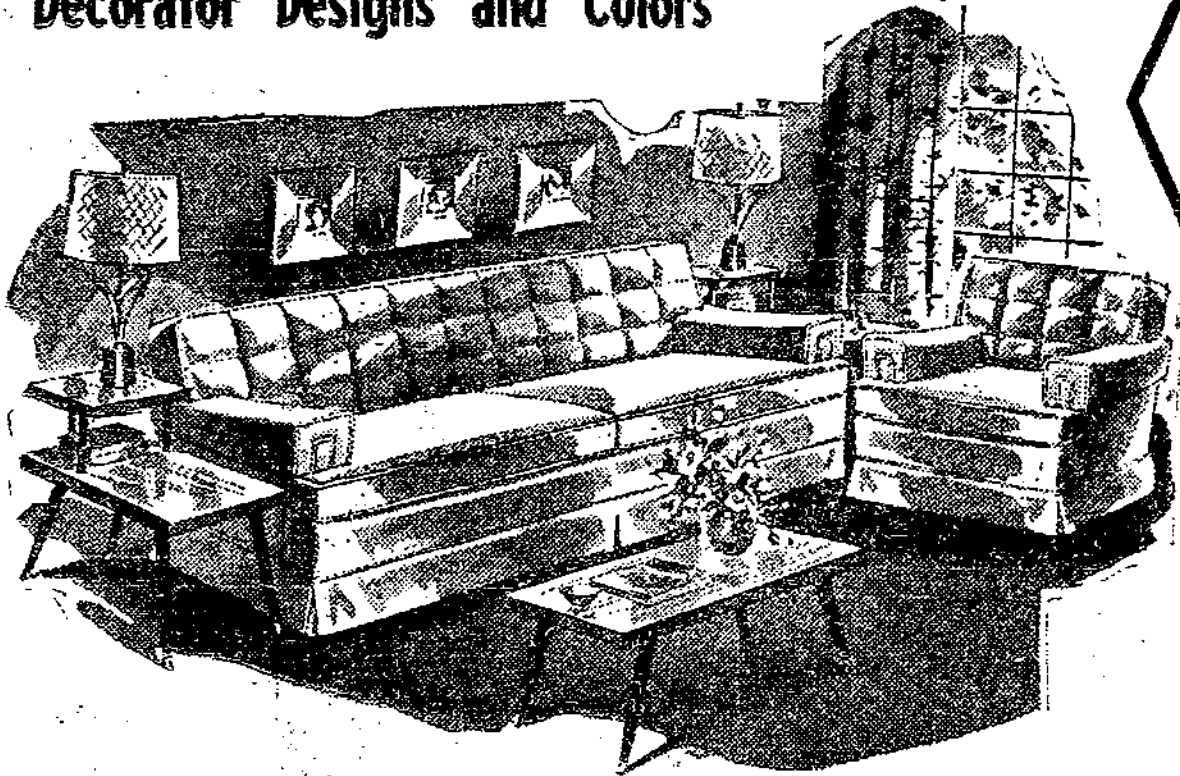

Through special arrangements the management of the Library Theatre announces today that a student's price of 90c will be in effect for the evening showings as well as Saturday and Sunday matinees. All students from 12 years to 18 years of age will be admitted for the 90c admission. Children's prices remain at 75c anytime.

Many students are now making plans to attend the showing in groups and this special arrangement for those over the 12 years is welcome news.

Washington (P)—In Orval Faubus you have a spiritual kin to Joe McCarthy.

Some personal resemblances are obvious: Two country boys. Both ambitious. Both slow starters. Faubus finished high school at the age of 24. McCarthy was well launched on a small town business career when he decided to get a high school diploma.

And of course there are differences too between the embattled governor of Arkansas and the late junior senator from Wisconsin.

Faubus is the play-it-close-to-four-chest type—not that he can't take dramatic action when he thinks the time is ripe. He did this in calling out National Guard troops to halt integration and—or preserve order at Little Rock Central High School.

McCarthy, on the other hand, was usually one to act first and weigh the consequences later. He would rush in where Faubus might fear to tread.

Their basic common ground appears to be this:

A conviction on the part of each man that he—rather than the generally accepted processes of law and order—had the solution to a problem of headline-making proportions.

With McCarthy the problem was communism. His argument was that he, or his Senate committee, alone had the full power and authority to cope with Red subversion. Time and again McCarthy and his aides said even the FBI couldn't do the job alone.

Faubus' target is school integration—or, as he puts it, "overnight" integration.

The authorities in Little Rock thought they could carry out peaceably the small degree of integration planned in their city this fall. They thought it was their responsibility to do so. Faubus held otherwise and called out the troops.

Neither Faubus nor McCarthy went so far as to say "I am the law," though both have been accused of taking just that attitude.

What they did do is operate outside of, or independently of, the law as most people understand it.

Each man claimed he was taking extraordinary measures to meet an extraordinary danger. Faubus has insisted his action was necessary to prevent violence. McCarthy contended his own course was essential to exposing traitors and their witting or unwitting accomplices.

The peacock's long, beautiful feathers grow from the back and are not the tail. They sometimes are called tail coverts.

Students Invited To Start Courses In CD Radiology

Radiological Division of Warren County Civil Defense announces a series of classes to be held weekly commencing at 7:30 p. m., October 23, 1957 in the Control Center, Court House Annex, Warren, Pa.

These classes are primarily for instruction of a team from each Civil Defense district in the use of Geiger Counters and other radiological detection instruments. The classes will last between eight and ten weeks depending on the amount of time the enrollees want to spend each night. The weekly night class will be held will depend on the enrollees at the first meeting.

This office encourages as many as possible to take the course as we feel the expert knowledge needed, in case of fall-out hitting our county, is woefully lacking. James Wright, Star Route, Irvine, will be in charge of the classes and will be aided by other trained men.

New Rabbi in Warren

RABBI BERGER

The above picture is of Rabbi Herbert I. Berger, who is beginning his official duties in this community. He is a graduate of the Theological Seminary of Yeshiva University in New York City. He is a member of Rabbinical Council of America, the Jewish Education Committee of the city of New York and a member of Rabbinical Alumni of Yeshiva University. Rabbi Berger was a former spiritual leader of the Oakland Maine Jewish Center.

Jews last night throughout the world began the celebration of their New Year. The Jewish New Year season, which begins with Rosh Hashana or New Year and ends with Yom Kippur or the Day of Atonement on October the fifth, is a solemn season of self examination and prayer.

On the New Year and Day of Atonement, the Jew thinks of peace for all mankind. He prays for the time when all the children of God shall join hands in Brotherhood, as it is written in the Scriptures. They shall beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks. Nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.

SWIMMING TIGERS

Tigers are excellent swimmers. It is reported that they will even swim from one island to another in search of a better hunting ground.

Letter to the Editor

Editor, The Times-Mirror,
Warren, Pennsylvania.

Dear Mr. Editor:
How long do many Warren Borough and Warren County residents plan to rest apathetically on the banks of our picturesque Allegheny while they are being captivated and misled by Pittsburgh capital and their fellow-travelers. Aren't there any men and/or women here who at this late state of the Kinzua Reservoir fiasco will telephone to the "Save Our Valley Association" and tell them "We want to give two or three hours a day in public service to convince Warrenites that there are other ways of flood control for our borough than the sacrifice of a typical American scene from "Devil's Elbow"—a winding river, beautiful timber on gentle slopes, a flat on which is located two little villages—the homes of the descendants of a group of sturdy pioneers who carved for themselves farms and settlements in the wilderness?"

Among them now are new and modern homes—men and women who are our bench-mates and office associates here in this cultured community we know as Warren. Here is our page from the history book of American development.

Aside from depicting American pluck as we stand at Devil's Elbow, viewing these multi-colored hills on this autumn afternoon, can't we lift our field glasses to the horizon and reflect for a moment on government and say "How thankful I am that I am an American—that I live in the U. S. A. and not in Hungary for here is the place about which a treaty was made with a nation who had no troops and weapons by a growing power known as the thirteen colonies who had intruded upon their lands!"

Are Warrenites who pride themselves on aiding the heart stricken, sight conservation for the poorly-visioned, etc., educating their children at Harvard and Oberlin, as many of them do and have done, going to "buy" Russian Tyranny now by accepting quietly the appropriation of a Congress which has forgotten some of these things or be confused by courts which toy with such weighty legal phrases as "eminent domain" and "the public good?"

There are other flood control measures which are far less costly than this $150,000,000 reservoir. The federal government and its agencies have a program for the purpose of preventing flood damage and furthering the conservation, development, utilization and disposal of water, thereby preserving and protecting the land and water resources which has been adapted to New York State counties by Article 5-d of that state's County Law. The Cattaraugus County Board of Supervisors passed an act on July 10, 1957 applying this article, authorizing their soil conservation department to "undertake studies and assemble data relating to the need for a small watershed project pursuant to the county small watershed protection district in the area in Cattaraugus County drained by the Cattaraugus Creek and its tributaries and perform all other acts necessary or desirable to carry out the purposes and intent of Article 5-d of the County Law as it relates to the Cattaraugus Creek drainage area."

Already there is a local flood control association at the headwaters of the Conewango Creek. Couldn't the soil conservation district of Warren County plan some ponds on Allegheny tributaries between here and the New York State line such as Sugar Run and the Kinzua Creek? When the people of Cat-

Cattaraugus County, New York asked their supervisors to enter an opposing resolution in the Congressional Record, why haven't the people of Warren County asked their Commissioners to do likewise. People across the line, not content with Army judgment, don't want their land taken for that reason. Why should people here want the dam? Why should these counties be used as a catch basin for the headwaters when on many farms or public lands there could be ponds? Just why are the small watershed protection districts unsound in the Commonwealth?

Why should land-taking for conservation be a duty of the Corps of Engineers, a part of the Department of Defense? Does that appear logical? In peace and prosperity times and for government economy reasons, why doesn't the Congress return them to private practice? Has it been good policy to fill rather than dig near the confluence of the Conewango and Allegheny? When concrete stream walls have been constructed at Coudersport, Olean and Bradford, why haven't the same been urged and/or initiated in Warren?

Has anyone thought of a canal which would convert our south side peninsula, which juts northward, into an island? In a Commonwealth of Brotherly Love, to which reference is made above, wouldn't involved industries or commerce be happy to relocate to make more room for the annual spring run-off without any municipality having to resort to land-taking condemnation proceedings?

Aren't there some who will telephone our organization "Save Our Valley Association" and tell them "I am an American; I believe in the American concept that we keep our word with our neighbors which was embodied in the Pickering Treaty of 1794, that I do not believe that the growth of an industrial area along the lower Allegheny affects those values?" Who among us will write to Congressman Leon Gawn and tell him that we believe that all industry in this drainage area, be it in Warren or Johnstown or between Oil City and Pittsburgh should neutralize their acidic wastes by inexpensive alkalis and that we as the taxpayers believe there are other less expensive, more honorable ways to solve the problem and that we don't want him to favor the appropriation of any more money for another "army monument" such as we have near Johnstown. Very truly yours, E. Luther Martin

"SALUTE TO WOMEN WHO WORK"

Spotlighting this week, September 22 through September 29 is "A Salute to Women Who Work", the theme of National Business Women's Week. The local Business and Professional Women's Club takes pride in being a member of the National Federation which is celebrating this week.

The Warren organization is responsible for many projects throughout the town. The group is the sponsor of the annual Cancer Campaign to which it pledges $300 to the campaign fund. Besides this worthy project the organization contributes to the Community Chest Campaign, the Red Cross, gives an award to a Warren High School Commercial student, the Jaycee Mardi Gras, the Warren Dragon, the Youth Ambassador Fund, Future Business Leaders of America, and a cash gift to needy families at the Christmas season.

Officers of the BPW for the 1957-58 year are President, Marion Davis; first vice president, Ruth Rapp; second vice president, Doris Rock; Recording secretary, Hulda Angerman; treasurer, Evelyn Cowles; and corresponding secretary, Alice Fox. Chairmen serving on the executive board are Sara Jayne Hartman, Cancer Chairman, assisted by Judy Connolly; Anna Jane Hawkins, Bulletin Chairman; Edna Casey, Civil Defense Chairman; Inez Leake, Historian; Jean Steele, Parliamentarian; and Ellen Courtney, Reservations.

Members of the local club plan to attend the district meeting which will be held in Kane in October, further plans of which will be announced.

At the present time there are approximately 22 million women employed throughout the country, and this week has been set aside with the slogan "A Salute to Women Who Work." Were women to stay away from their jobs for just one day, business would be crippled to such an extent that it would be necessary to close doors in most hospitals, many schools, offices, and practically every store, not to mention the monetary loss to the merchant and to industry.

Since World War II women have taken a more active part in the business world either with full or part-time employment. With the advance of labor saving devices, women have more time to devote to work outside the home, and in many instances, they are the backbone of the organization.

Congratulations to those 22 million women in the land who find time to keep the wheels of progress running.

LET'S CONSIDER ORVAL

There is no question in anybody's mind that Governor Orval Faubus represents a state of mind which predominates in Arkansas. And when by judicial action, the will of the minority is to override the feeling of the majority, this effect on the Democratic process can have serious implications.

In states which are rabidly segregation-minded, the consequences of this sort of judicial fiat can result in chaos. At risk of ceaseless repetition, integration can only be accomplished over a lengthy period. When the sometimes misguided NAACP three times took Little Rock integration plans before Arkansas Federal Courts, and three times were defeated in their fight against integration plans which would take until 1963, a suspicion of violence could easily arise on the day the melding of races is to begin.

President Eisenhower's action which turned Little Rock into an armed camp, will leave a bad taste over the entire South for months, perhaps years, to come. They have an indigenous problem which can never be solved by force, nor show of force. In fact, the South can never be "made" to live with the Negroes. Students at Central High School have said they would not eat with the new students, others said they would not take gym with them. Hundreds of others boycotted the school.

Integrationists point with pride to mixture of the races in Washington, D. C. Fifty percent is the claim. Actually, while 50 percent of the colored students do attend supposed mixed high schools in Washington, there are but a few of either white or black in the so-called mixed institutions. As the Negroes move into central Washington the whites pour into the suburbs, a situation which is bound to speak well of integration there when the population becomes predominantly Negro in perhaps two years.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Here and There

A small shy bird of the west, adds its own suspense story to autumn's wonderful mystery of migration and hibernation.

It's the time of year when birds of land and water wing south to ancestral winter homes, urged by inner clocks and following uncanny direction-finders. Vulnerable animals that can't travel far are enabled by nature, meanwhile, to drop off into a profound sleep that protects them from cold and the scarcity of food.

The poorwill, named after its mournful night cry, is a member of the highly migratory goatsucker family. But the poorwill apparently doesn't choose to make the fall journey. It can enter into a state of true hibernation and is the only bird known to do so, the National Geographic Society says.

The discovery was made several years ago by Dr. Edmund C. Jaeger, a California biologist, in the Chuckwalla Mountains of California's Colorado Desert. He found a poorwill holed up in a rocky niche where it passed portions of four winters in a comatose state, its temperature some 40 degrees below normal. A stethoscope could detect no heartbeat. A mirror caught no mist of its breath.

Earlier, poorwills had been picked up in a trancelike condition, but scientists had assumed the birds were temporarily numbed. Torpor is a well-known phenomenon among many diverse creatures, including birds that burn up a lot of energy. Hummingbirds need so much food that they'd starve at night if the body metabolism didn't slow down.

Their close relatives, the swifts, live on flying insects. When insects vanish during stormy weather, swifts tie themselves over by fastening and sleeping. A swift's respiratory rate may drop to eight times a minute from a normal, hard-pumping count of 80.

But torpor is different from months-long hibernation, when the body's functions all but cease and the flames of life dwindle to an ember. Generations of scientists accepted the dictum that birds simply don't hibernate. Thus the discovery that poorwills can hibernate, like woodchucks, astounded the ornithological world.

It is still not known, however, whether all poorwills hibernate as a matter of course or whether some take off south with other members of the family. Some goatsuckers go to the tropics; others fly down to the Southern Hemisphere's temperate zone.

The wintering of animals puzzled and intrigued ancient peoples. They explained the mystery with wild fancies and speculation. If birds didn't hibernate, what happened to them? The great philosopher Aristotle insisted that swallows buried themselves in mud at the bottoms of lakes and streams. This belief was so widely held that a recently compiled list of old "scientific" works on swallow hibernation contained no less than 175 titles.

Other ancient peoples thought birds flew to the moon to spend the winter. And when the phenomenon of migration was at last recognized, though only vaguely understood, many people believed that on long flights the birds carried little ones on their backs.

EDSON IN WASHINGTON

Expand Prison Industries To Cut Institution Costs

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—How to make crime pay an increased share of its own costs to the public is one of the major problems faced by James V. Bennett, director of U.S. Bureau of Prisons for the past 22 years. It is a challenge that can't be laughed off. The cost of crime to U.S. taxpayers is going up every year. In 1946 there were 121,000 prisoners in state institutions and 17,000 in federal institutions. For 1956 the figures were 168,000 and 20,000—a 35 per cent increase in 10 years. Numbers are expected to rise. Federal prison population is increasing at the rate of 400 more inmates every year. Thirty federal institutions built to accommodate about 15,000 prisoners are now 30 per cent overcrowded. Last year Bureau of Prisons went to Congress with a 15-million-dollar construction program to take care of more youthful prisoners and more maximum custody prisoners like bank robbers. Caught in the economy drive, Congress turned down the request. But sooner, rather than later, this problem will have to be met.

ONE SUGGESTED SOLUTION is to allow Bureau of Prisons to take the net receipts of its Federal Prison Industries, Inc., and reinvest them in enlarging the institutions themselves, as well as the 50 shops in 24 institutions.

This would be a practical way to help criminals pay a greater share of their own upkeep. Federal Prison Industries, Inc., which is a government corporation, began operations in 1935. Since then it has shown net earnings of 49 million dollars, of which 32 million has been paid back to the Treasury as dividends.

Receipts last year amounted to 27 million dollars with net profits of over four million. The total cost to the government for operating the 30 federal institutions is around 30 million dollars. This makes Bureau of Prisons capable of 13 per cent self-support.

FEDERAL PRISON CAMPS, like those at Tucson, Ariz., and Mill Point, W. Va., have built roads and done national forest service, though the work done shows no cash return to the Treasury.

Federal prisons also operate farms that raise over $1,750,000 worth of food products a year. They furnish 40 per cent of the prisoners' own requirements at a cost of less than $1 a day for each inmate.

As a matter of fact, all goods and services produced by Federal Prison Industries are for government use. Nothing is sold on the open market in competition with private industry.

Only 4,000, or about 23 per cent, of the prisoners are now employed in prison industries. They were paid an average of $27.50 a month in wages. Most of this money has to be saved or sent to the criminals' families to keep them from becoming public charges. This is another factor in making crime pay—for itself—in the newer and better meaning.

OUT OF ITS EARNINGS, Federal Prison Industries also supports vocational training schools at a cost of $500,000 a year. Last year about 10,000 prisoners took such courses.

In about half the institutions, courses are given credit recognized as apprentice training for union cards.

When successful, this vocational training is perhaps the biggest dividend in cutting crime costs. Any criminal who can be taught a trade that will keep him from crime is a net gain to society. The sad fact is, however, that two out of three prison inmates are not rehabilitated and return to crime.

State penal institutions have a spotty record on development of prison industries. A few have model shops, but in some states, prisoners are kept in almost complete idleness.

YOUR FOREST RANGER

On October fifth, the first "hunter's choice" deer season ever held in Pennsylvania for bow and arrow hunters is expected to bring 60,000 archers into the field. About half of them will be enjoying bow hunting for the first time. Many will be wholly without hunting experience of any kind. Some may not even realize how deadly the modern bow and arrow can be.

That old excuse for a hunting accident, "I didn't know it was loaded," hardly seems applicable to the bow and arrow. Strange as it may seem, though, the only reported accidents from the 1956 archery season in Pennsylvania were self-inflicted. They were caused by the razor sharp steel hunting heads. Fall down with an arrow held carelessly in your hand and you could be impaled upon the steel head. The safest place for a hunting arrow, until you are ready to use it, is in the quiver.

Arrows have great penetrating power. I was convinced of this when I saw an Indian skull in a museum with an obsidian arrowhead embedded in the brain pan. Death must have been instantaneous. The horse Indians of the Great Plains used bows that could be easily handled from horseback. They were only half the length of the English longbow, but an arrow shot at close range at a running buffalo could pass entirely through the animal's body. English long-bowmen were able to pin fully armored French knights to their horses with cloth-yard shafts which had great penetrating power.

The modern hunting bow, with its steel tipped arrows, more nearly resembles the English longbow than the bow of the American Indian. It was the longbow, with its cloth-yard shafts, that made the English soldiers the most dreaded warriors in Europe during the Middle Ages. The standard practice for the six-foot English longbow was 220 yards, but an arrow could be shot twice as far with much less accuracy. So don't underestimate the distance a hunting arrow can travel and still be dangerous.

The poet who wrote, "I shot an arrow into the air, It fell to earth, I knew not where," violated the safety code of the bow and arrow hunter. An arrow shot into the air could come down on the top of some bystander's head and pin his hat to his skull.

It is just as important to wear red when hunting with a bow and arrow as with a rifle. Last year a bow hunter killed another archer in North Dakota. Either his aim was poor or he thought he was shooting at a deer.

Be sure that you know what you are shooting at, and be sure that you have developed enough skill to hit where you aim. There might be another hunter hidden close by.

The Allegheny National Forest welcomes the bow and arrow hunter. The hunting is good, and we wish you success and a safe hunt.

ADMITS BIGAMY
Pittsburgh (AP)—A 38-year-old Pittsburgh man faces court action on bigamy charges after admitting he married three times without divorcing his first two wives.
Julius A. Stevens pleaded guilty to the charges last night at an alderman's hearing, just two weeks after taking his third wife, Eleanor Biggs of Pittsburgh.

Beef and Pork Will Appear On Many Tables This Weekend

Beef and pork will appear on many American dining room tables Sunday, judging from the specials to be offered by the nation's supermarkets this weekend.

Sirloin is a bit cheaper in scattered areas this week, which accounts for offerings of steaks, while other beef cuts are mostly unchanged. Pork chops are from 1 to 6 cents lower, several months ahead of the price decreases expected for pork products this fall.

That's generally the pattern this week, although many stores also will feature turkeys and chickens. A wide range of seafood specialties also are available for those who prefer them, including cod, haddock and halibut fillets, oyster stew, shrimp and rock lobster tails.

Fall harvests of vegetables give shoppers a wide range of choice at bargain levels. Cabbage, cauliflower, onions, peppers, endive, escarole, radishes, collards, kale and potatoes all are outstanding buys. Sweet corn also is an outstanding buy in areas where it's available from nearby fields, market men say.

Teeners Can Ease Acne Worries

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

THE teen-ager with an acne problem is a teen-ager who's miserable. But there's no need to be unhappy when so much can be done about acne. The first step, of course, is to see your doctor and follow his advice. But a great deal of the success you have in clearing up your case of acne depends on you. It's good for a gal to know that there are general rules she must follow if her skin is to become clear and blooming again. To begin with, make sure that you get at least eight hours' sleep each night. If you live in the south or in California, a regular sun bathing program (in moderation) is a help all year around. So is regular exercise. You need three sound meals a day so don't skip breakfast even if you're used to getting by on orange juice and coffee. Don't be self-conscious about your skin problem; it's a common one. Thousands of teen-agers have it. It's doing something about it that will make you feel better at once.

ONE way to rid yourself of ex-haustion at the end of a hard day is via the hot bath. This does not mean a bath so hot that your skin turns lobster red. A bath that's too hot is only enervating. It means a comfortably hot bath; one that's pleasantly lull in. The heat will relieve those aching muscles. A good lathering and a final rinse with a cool spray (either a hand spray or the shower) will leave you feeling relaxed and pleasant. Have a glass of warm milk, turn the pages of your current book and you'll find that you're ready to pop off to sleep.

UNDERWEIGHT, like overweight, can be a real problem. If you're making a serious effort to increase your weight but find it hard to eat more, there are ways to achieve a weight increase pleasantly. Don't force yourself. Instead, beat an egg into a glass of milk as a between-meal snack. Eat ice cream; nearly everyone likes it. When you think of it, stop for a malted milk. Take your coffee with liberal helpings of sugar and cream. Add an extra slice of toast at breakfast. These are all practical ways to up your calorie intake. And be sure you get enough rest. This is important for anyone who wants to gain weight.

LOSE UGLY FAT IN TEN DAYS OR MONEY BACK

If you are overweight, here is the first really thrilling news to come along in years. A new and convenient way to get rid of extra pounds easier than ever, so you can be as slim and trim as you want. This new product called DIATRON cures both hunger and appetite. Large Attendance Marks First Meeting Of South Street PTA

The initial fall meeting of the South Street PTA was held this week with almost a full attendance. Mrs. Anderson's sixth grade received the banner for the most parents present. Mrs. Howard Jarvis was in charge of devotions.

Paul Shogren, in charge of the main program of the evening, showed slides on "Life in Sweden." The theme of the program was "understanding" or the key to brotherhood. He had a very interesting display of books and different items which he brought from Sweden and Finland.

Officers elected for the year are: President, Mrs. Robert Fatchen; vice president, Frederick Olson; treasurer, Gordon Hanks; secretary, Mrs. Elmer Morgan; advisor, Edith Berkman. Committee chairman for the year are: program, Frederick Olson; publicity, Mrs. Joseph Conti; hospitality, Mrs. Wayne Miller; magazines, Mrs. Fred Shattuck; membership, Mrs. David Demel and Mrs. Donald Johnson; devotions, Mrs. Howard Jarvis; budget and finance, Gordon Hanks; safety and patrol, Mrs. John Sandstrom; music, Mrs. Clayton Rhoades; legislative, Mrs. Jay White.

The first grade mothers were in charge of refreshments. Mrs. Gordon Hanks, committee chairman had as her assistants, Mrs. Paul Cable and Mrs. Earl Hughes.

PITTSFIELD COUPLE HAVE 25TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kwiatkowski, of Pittsfield, are celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary today. They were married on September 26, 1932 in the St. Luke's Roman Catholic church in Irvine by the Rev. Charles J. Liebel, and were attended by the bride's brother, Frank Stino and the bridegroom's niece, Mary Kempka. Mr. Kwiatkowski has made a miraculous recovery from a serious illness last year.

The couple celebrated their anniversary five days early, so that their son, John, home on leave from the U. S. Navy, could be with them. The affair, held at the White Swan Dance Hall in Wrightsville, was arranged by their children, John, Mary Ann, Margie and Frankie. Margie Kwiatkowski and Ruth Peterson had charge of the guest book; Mary Ann and Pat Kwiatkowski served the wedding cake and Edith Stino poured coffee. The Polkaturs orchestra furnished the music for dancing.

The Mature Parent

We Can't Pry Into All the Corners of Child's Heart

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

LIKE many other divorcees, the K.'s requires their children to spend summers with their father. This summer Patty and Mike also spent it with his new wife.

Now that they're home again, their mother wants to ask them many questions. She wants to know whether their stepmother criticized their clothes and manners; whether she and their father argued over their behavior; what she looks like and whether they like her and think she'll make their father happy.

But every time she's tried to ask one of these questions, Patty and Mike have shown uneasiness—and evaded her. Finally when she asked Patty directly whether Daddy seemed happy with his new wife, the child burst out, "Oh, Mommy, for goodness sake, I don't know! And if I did know, why do you have to know, too?"

AS a result of this refusal of confidence, Mrs. K. has been feeling rejected by her children as well as by their father. And her hurt has been making their homecoming less happy than it should be.

So for her and other divorced mothers at this time of year, I want to quote some words of Dr. Albert Schweitzer.

In his book, "Memoirs of Childhood and Youth," he writes: "We must all beware of reproaching those we love with want of confidence in us if they are not always ready to let us look into all corners of their heart. The soul has its clothing of which we must not deprive it; and no one has the right to say to another, 'Because we belong to each other as we do, I have a right to know all your thoughts. All demands of that sort are foolish and unwholesome. We might almost say that the better we get to know each other, the more mystery we see in each other. Only those who respect the personality of others can be of real use to them.'"

THIS is the view of one of the great practicing Christians of our time.

However, though we may not be able to practice forbearance as well as Dr. Schweitzer does, we can at least accept it as our ideal behavior.

We'll release Patty and Mike from the obligation to allow us to pry into all the corners of their hearts—and turn, instead, to our own. Instead of trying to explore their secret feelings, we'll start exploring the fears that lie behind our need to pry.

Y-Teeners Busily Engaged Planning Fall Meetings

Again it is September and the Y-Teen rooms of the Y.W.C.A. are filled with chattering girls busily planning for their fall meetings. Under the leadership of Mrs. Victor Spattfor, the Y-Teen Director, the girls are anxiously looking forward to a year of many many new experiences.

The High School girls have held several capinet meetings and have already held their first meeting. Under their President, Pat Ross, many plans are being made by the girls and their advisers. Getting acquainted and refreshments were highlights of their opening meeting.

The Beaty-Y-Teen clubs will start their meetings next week. The ninth grade on Tuesday, October 1, at 8:00 in the Y gym; the eighth grade on Wednesday, October 16, at 2:00 in the Y gym; the seventh grade on Wednesday, October 9, at 2:00 in the Y gym.

Swimming classes and the radio program the Y-Teens always have every year will start around the middle of October.

With all these plans in the wind it looks like the Y-Teens will have a busy and fun filled winter.

LADY EAGLES PARTY

The Lady Eagles enjoyed their September birthday party at the club rooms on Tuesday, Sept. 24, with a very fine attendance. After dinner lemon tree gifts were sold to everyone and games were provided by the entertainment committee—Ruth Bupp and Jean Cassell. Many projects were planned for the ensuing year, and the Auxiliary will sell home made "chili" after the next meeting on Tuesday, October 1 to both Aerie and Auxiliary. Everyone is urged to be there.

CLEMENS CLASS EVENT

The Clemens Class of the Grace Methodist Church are planning a Scavenger Hunt. It will be held on Saturday, Sept. 28, at 8:00 p. m. and will start from Fellowship Hall. All new and old members are urged to come in and join in this first meeting of the fall season.

Officers Are Named by Edna Section Circle

Members of the Edna Sexton Circle of the Grace Methodist church were entertained at the home of Mrs. Jessie Bairstow, with eighteen members present, and officers were named as follows:

Chairman—Mrs. Jessie Bairstow.
Co-chairman—Mrs. Andrew Nelson.
Secretary-Treasurer—Josephine Garber.
Sunshine—Mrs. Foreman.
Projects—Mrs. Mabel Adams.
Mrs. Andrew Nelson.
Publicity—Wilma Stryker.
Devotional Leader—Mrs. Esther Smith.
Program—Mrs. Mabel Sponsler.
Corresponding Secy—Mrs. Flora Haupt.

Two interesting letters were read from our Missionary, Edna Sexton, who is now at Cedartown, Ga., and the Study Book selected for the year was "Ten Against the Storm."

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Esther Smith and refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Jessie Bairstow, assisted by Mrs. Andrew Nelson.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Mabel Adams, 102 Alexander street, Monday, October 28th.

As a project for the next meeting Skulles are to be made for the State Hospital Patients.

VERA E. PARKS CIRCLE

The first fall meeting of the Vera E. Parks Circle was held at the home of Mrs. Leroy Hammerbeck, 22 Plum street, with devotions by Mrs. Philip Mames. There were 15 members present. The following officers were elected:

Chairman—Mrs. Leroy Hammerbeck.
Co-chairman — Mrs. Philip Mames.
Secretary-treasurer—Mrs. Leroy Conn.
Corresponding secretary — Miss Evelyn Boyd.
Devotional chairman—Mr. Philip Mames.
Project chairman — Mrs. W. J. Summerville.

Suits Soothe Whims for Furs

BY GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The best argument any woman can give herself in favor of buying a fur-trimmed suit this fall is that it will make her look both beautiful and elegant.

Women are well aware of the drama inherent in the combination of white mink and black broadcloth. Such suits are shown every fall and the favored few buy them.

This year, suits with fur trim are everywhere, for everybody. The woman who feels that her use of the black suit with white mink or ermine trim would be limited can have a suit in black or red or blue or green with a little collar of ranch mink.

She can, if she likes, splurge on one really beautiful suit of wool with a collar of sable and regard it as a kind of wardrobe investment. She might have to pass up a new coat or a cocktail dress in order to have it. It would be worth it just for the way she'll feel when she wears it.

Here are two perfect suits, ones that any woman would love to own. Both offer lots of fashion in addition to the elegance of fur trim. Both are designed by Arthur Jablow.

There's a new color as background for white ermine: olive green. The jacket of this suit

(left) has double-breasted plaid front and smooth, untrimmed sleeves. Skirt is slim but is eased by soft folds. Suit in sheer honey color. A huge pink rose imported beige wool (right) has the final touch for a suit that collar of Russian sable in a new completely feminine ton Hildum.

Study Book—Miss Clara Wickstrom.
Phoning Committee—Mrs. Ruth Lundquist and Mrs. Geraldine Fitzgerald.
Members voted to hold meetings on fourth Monday of each month. After brief social time, refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Hammerbeck and Mrs. Mames.

NOTICE

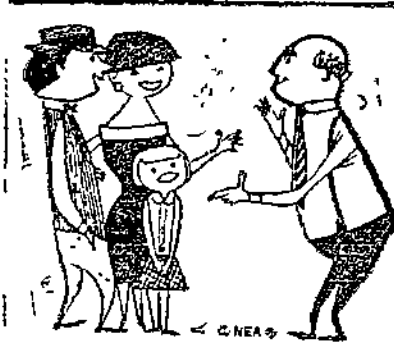

Drs. Geo. and Veryl Riley will not be in the office from Sept. 29 to Oct. 13. Dr. Joseph Mull will be in the office Oct. 8 to 10, from 7 to 9 p. m.

It is thoughtful of an older parent living with a married child to make it easy for the young couple to entertain their friends occasionally without the parent being present. Also, the considerate parent living in a child's home manages to have some social life that doesn't involve the children.

That gives them a chance to have some outings by themselves.

Where Did You First Meet Your New Car?

Was it in an advertisement? So often the first meeting is . . . and how much it means to you and your family now. But it means even more to countless others, whose jobs depend on car sales.

When you buy a car, you help pay the salaries of your local dealer's salesmen. Part of your money went into their bank accounts, to their grocers, to other suppliers here in Warren. The circle goes on widening to include literally thousands all over America . . . all kinds of people in all kinds of jobs.

They buy cars, too, and millions of other items every day. Many of these sales begin with advertising on newspaper pages like this, country-wide.

So you can say, truthfully, that every time advertising helps to make a sale, your own paycheck and your family's way of living are just that much more secure.

Executive Director Assumes Her Duties With Children's Aid Society

The Family Service and Children's Aid Society of Warren County is pleased to announce that Miss Katherine R. Knapp has assumed her duties as executive director of the newly-expanded agency. Formerly of Pittsburgh, Miss Knapp is responsible for the administration of all services of the agency and has the special responsibility of overseeing the family case work program. Miss Claire Elliott will continue with the agency as Director of Children's Services.

Miss Knapp's position, before her appointment as Executive Director of the Family Service and Children's Aid Society, was Director of Casework at Catholic Social Services of Allegheny County. In 1952 she was loaned to the federal government to work with schools of social work and social agencies in Brazil. She taught special courses in the schools and worked with individual agencies to help them develop and improve the standards of social work in their country. Miss Knapp has also been employed as Director of the Social Service Department at the Association for Crippled and Disabled in Cleveland and as a caseworker and supervisor for Family Service in Cleveland.

Miss Knapp received her undergraduate degree at Flora Stone Mather College of Western Reserve University. She holds the Masters Degree of Social Work earned at the School of Applied Social Sciences of Western Reserve University and at the School of Social Work at the University of Pittsburgh.

Commenting upon her arrival in Warren, Miss Knapp said, "The countryside is beautiful and the people are friendly, and I think they must be wise also to have seen the need for family counseling and to have asked the Children's Aid Society to expand their program to give this much-needed service. We hope that this new agency will be a friend to the families of Warren County."

MAY R. STONE GROUP

Members of the May R. Stone class of the First Presbyterian church met at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Offelle for a picnic dinner. Following the dinner, a short business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. William Cannon. Plans were made to help with the church bazaar and rummage sale. Plans were also made for a tea in November.

Mr. and Mrs. Offelle entertained the twenty four members showing pictures, and an enjoyable time was had by all. Two other picnics were held during the summer, one at Quigley Park on Lake Chautauqua with Mrs. Clifford Johnson, and the other with Mrs. George Nelson.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Letah Peterson, here from Florida, Miss Mattie Snyder, Harrisburg, and Edythe Hultberg, Jamestown, N. Y.

MRS. ANNA TRAUFFER HAS 89TH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Anna Trauffer, 309 Park street, was honored last evening at a surprise birthday dinner to celebrate her 89th birthday anniversary. The party was held at the home of her son, John Trauffer, with ten members of the family present to enjoy the occasion.

Mrs. Trauffer, who resides with her daughter, Mrs. Ann Shute, has four grandchildren and eight great grandchildren. The former Anna Bohren, she came here in her youth from Switzerland and was married to Peter Trauffer, also Swiss.

Mrs. Trauffer is a very active lady, attends church regularly, reads and crochets and helps much about the house.

Shopper-Watching Is Fun And an Inexpensive Hobby

If you want to have some fun next time you go shopping, make a private survey of the types of women shoppers you encounter on your expedition.

You may find many others—but here are a few types you are bound to spot.

Mrs. Just Looking If a customer admits openly to the clerk that she is just looking, she may end up a purchaser. Mrs. Just Looking isn't so frank. She pretends she really wants to buy something, but she has such a quick fault to find with everything shown her that she gives herself away. Also, she seems mightily unconcerned about the price of what she looks at. That's because she has no intention of buying.

Mrs. Somebody Shopping trips give her a beautiful chance to throw her weight around. She casually—or so she thinks—lets the saleswomen know that she wants only the best, that her closets are already bulging, that she is just back from a trip to some glamorous spot or just about to take one. She'll be more interested in the labels than in the clothes.

HER CAPTIVE AUDIENCE

MRS. NEIGHBOR She's the chatty type. The one who takes up a busy saleswoman's time talking about her children, her grandchildren, her diet or whatever concerns her at the moment. To her a salesperson is a captive audience and she chats along, relaxed and happy to have a listener.

Miss Teen-Age If she is alone she may be a quick and expert shopper. But if Mom is along, she will probably have to try on everything Mom likes as well as everything she likes. And all too often there is a pitched battle before daughter gets to buy her own selection.

Mrs. I Can't Decide She will have trouble if she is just buying a pair of plain black gloves. To help make up her mind, she'll ask questions, ask the salesperson's advice, ask the advice of any shopper who happens to be standing nearby, and then probably leave the store without having made up her mind. If she does make a purchase, chances are she'll return it next day.

You can spot all these types—and more, too—in just one day's shopping trip. Like bird-watching, shopper-watching is an inexpensive and amusing hobby.

Budget Is Discussed by East Street School PTA

The first meeting of East Street School PTA was held this week with the new president, Mrs. Clifford Knowlton, presiding. The other major offices are filled by the following: vice president, Mrs. Elmer Weilin; secretary, Mrs. Charles Sellin; treasurer, Mrs. Dan Troxell.

The budget for the school year was presented. Mrs. Elmer Weilin announced the Thrift Sale to be held October 24 and 25 in the vacant building next to Walker's Dairy Store on the East Side.

The new principal, Mr. Stone, was introduced and he in turn presented the following teachers: Miss Roberts, kindergarten; Miss Beba Colo, first grade; Mrs. Rose Sprague, second grade; Miss Vogel, third grade; Mrs. John Donaldson, fourth grade; Miss Byham, fifth grade. Mr. Stone teaches sixth grade.

The attendance award was won by Mrs. Sprague's second grade.

Refreshments were served by the sixth grade mothers, with Mrs. Francis Hultquist and Mrs. Frank Foster as hostesses.

CIVIC ORCHESTRA ELECTS OFFICERS

A board meeting of Warren Civic Orchestra was held at the home of Mrs. Joseph DeFrees to prepare for the coming year for the organization. Members of the board include Mrs. Frederick Olson, Mrs. Thomas Conway, Mrs. Margaret Wright, Nelson Johnson, James Potter and Garney Pedersen. The following officers for the group were elected: President, Mrs. Joseph DeFrees; secretary, Nelson Johnson; treasurer, Mrs. Margaret Wright.

PLANS OPEN CHURCH

Nancy DeStefano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel DeStefano, 808 Pennsylvania avenue, west, will observe open church for her marriage to George Mosorjak, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mosorjak, of Johnstown. The wedding will take place at ten a. m. Saturday, September 28, at St. Joseph's church.

Gathered From The Party Line

Miss Ann Lewis, Pleasant Drive, is spending the weekend in New York City, where she will attend a performance of the Royal Ballet.

IN APPRECIATION

Mr. and Mrs. Chas Lobdell wish to thank all who sent cards remembering them on their Golden Anniversary.

A total of 894,575 persons visited Mount Rushmore National Memorial, in South Dakota, during 1956.

Future Homemakers of America members who plan to attend the Sub-Region Conference at Clarion-Limestone Schools, Saturday, October 5 are reminded that they must sign up in Room 121.

The next local FHA meeting will be at 7 p. m. Monday, September 30 in Room 12. Membership is open to all high school girls. New members are welcome at this meeting.

All women of Warren High faculty were guests at a Tea given by the Future Homemakers of America members of WHS to honor the new women teachers this afternoon in Room 12. Lou Anna Lane, general chairman of this affair, was assisted by Pat Duffy, Sue Spattfor, and Gail Wyman.

The Spot will not be open this evening.

A highly enjoyable, instructive, and inspirational double assembly was conducted by the General Electric Company this morning in Warren High School. Bill Bevevino, President of Student Council, introduced Mr. McMullen of Penna. Electric Company. Mr. McMullen pointed out that the show is designed to stimulate education and to further schooling in college. He then introduced Richman Dugal and Mr. Noel Olson from General Electric in Schenectady. Mr. Olson opened the "House of Magic" show by presenting the three keys to success in the House of Magic—Materials, Technique, and Brain Power. He gave several demonstrations on each After the assembly, Joan Chiquenotti introduced the eight lucky misses nominated for Homecoming Queen.

TUNE UP YOUR INSTRUMENTS!

Warren Civic Orchestra will begin rehearsals at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday at the high school and announcement is made that membership is open to everyone who plays an instrument and especially newcomers to Warren are invited. Those who play any string instruments, woodwind, percussion and brass are urged to attend. This civic enterprise, organized seven years ago, has contributed much to the musical scene locally. The popular Harry Summers will direct the group, and a large turnout is desired for this initial rehearsal for the season.

For Any Time of Day: 1957 Jersey

BY GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The use of jersey for suits, dresses and coats has been on the increase ever since Mile Gabrielle Chanel returned to fashion three years ago.

It was Chanel's favorite fabric in the 1920's. It's her favorite fabric today and her sponsorship of it has a great deal to do with the fact that jersey is seen for active sportswear, campus life, business wear, dressy daytime wear, cocktail, dinner and evening wear.

The 1957 jersey retains its shape and its pleats, doesn't shrink or sag, keeps its original color and wears indefinitely. These are all factors, in addition to fashion, to make it a strong candidate for any woman's wardrobe.

We show here how thalspun, which is 80 per cent orlon and 20 per cent wool, takes to 1957 fashion.

Daytime dress (left) is a two-piece fashion with easy skirt gathered at the top, blouse that ties at the neckline. It's completely washable, of course.

At first glance, it might not seem possible that this thalspun (fashion) could take to soap and water. But it can. This is a hostess coat with draped top of the orlon-wool jersey and skirt of nylon chiffon. Top is gold and skirt is gold brightened further with orange.

Every new mother needs to give extra time to her looks. It's best to start as soon as possible after she brings the baby home. It's easiest then to get her figure back into shape. And it's also the time when babies tend to sleep the most. This young mother follows exercise with a relaxing stretch in the tub. She uses (left) a semi-stiff body brush on knees, elbows, hands and nails. The brush removes both grime and dead skin. She reforms abdominal muscles (center) by tossing a deck of cards into the air, then getting down on hands and knees to pick each one up separately. This crawl will do wonders for her figure. She combines her own grooming with baby chores (right) as she dries her hands after sterilizing the baby's bottles. Here, she pushes back cuticle before she tosses towel into hamper. Then she uses a protective hand cream.

Bevevino Electric Is Named Distributor of Sylvania Hi Fi and TV in Warren County

Joseph A. Bevevino of Bevevino's Electric, 418 Pennsylvania avenue west, has been named distributor of Sylvania television and hi-fi sets in Warren County, according to an announcement today from Sylvania Sales Corporation office in Buffalo, N. Y.

Bevevino Electric, long known for its famous sales and service of all things electrical, is pleased to announce to its many patrons the acquisition of these new fine Sylvania products.

Addition of these lines adds to Bevevino's stock of all kitchen appliances, an extensive line of electrical fixtures, plus complete electrical servicing and supply.

Sylvania television this year is boasting of its new 110-degree, slim-line series, the set which no longer pokes far into the center of the viewing room, but rather stands discreetly on a shelf or table. Sylvania TV is a pioneer in developments which have allowed the tube length to be cut in half, enhancing beauty of the cabinet and allowing for more suitable placement.

In the hi-fidelity equipment line, Sylvania comes into the field with all its company experience packed into electronic research Sylvania hi-fi is now introducing its unparalleled sound, with quality tone for jazz, classic, popular and even rock 'n' roll rhythms.

Mr. Bevevino cordially invites all to inspect his quality line of Sylvania products at the retail outlet in the 400 Block along Pennsylvania avenue west.

Ready to demonstrate the complete line of all appliances offered by Bevevino's is genial and courtly Mark Bevevino, son of the owner.

Youngsville Man Aboard Guided Missile Cruiser

North Atlantic (PHTNC)—Donald R. Hansen, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex M. Agnew of 111 Highland avenue, Youngsville, aboard the guided missile heavy cruiser USS Canberra is taking part in "Operation Strikeback", a large-scale naval and air exercise in North Atlantic waters during Sept. 19-28.

More than 150 vessels from North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries will participate in the 10-day operation "Strikeback" marks the first time since 1953 that forces under NATO have been engaged in large-scale combined fleet maneuvers.

Nations taking part include: Canada, France, Norway, the Netherlands, United Kingdom and the United States.

During the exercise the NATO forces will range over the North Atlantic to waters adjacent to the British Isles, the Iceland-Faeroes Gap, the Norwegian Sea, and portions of the North Sea.

Air and submarine opposition, anti-submarine warfare, aircraft carrier operations and the simulated use of guided missiles and atomic weapons in offensive and defensive action will be included in the exercise.

DRAMATIST—Sultry Tina Louise, whose "Appassionata von Climax" in the Broadway stage hit "Lili Abner" was a far cry Lady MacBeth, will now try a dramatic role in Hollywood. She says the producers of the film version of "God's Little Acre" think she's capable of emotion as well as sex appeal. She plays a "Baby Doll"-type character in the film.

China's first railway was a short line of track running out of Shanghai. It was destroyed by the Chinese in the early 1880's because the imperial Manchu court thought it might "disturb the immortal spirits."

CANCER LIFE-LINE

Throughout the nation, Americans are learning vital facts about cancer. Through films, pamphlets, posters, exhibits and lectures, via newspapers, magazines, radio and television, the life-line of cancer education is reaching more and more men and women.

All of us are concerned with the major threat which cancer poses. Today, thousands of lives are being saved each year, but many more would be saved if people went to their doctors in time. This, and many other facts of life about cancer, are part of the education program which the American Cancer Society offers—at your community center or club, your church or school, your office or factory. For additional information, call the American Cancer Society office nearest you, or write to "Cancer" in care of your local Post Office.

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY

An Appreciation From the 1956 Community Ambassador

(Editor's note: This letter was sent along by Miss Sally Weiler, 1956 Community Youth Ambassador, to express her appreciation for the presentation given her earlier this week.)

'Because of the special honor accorded me at the North Warren Community House Monday evening by the efforts of the Warren Jaycees, I wish to write a public thank you to each and every one of the Jaycees.

And to you, Bill Farnick, who so ably carried out my thrilling surprise, I'll spend the rest of my lifetime trying to live up to the things which you attributed to me.

'To the Homemaker's Class of the North Warren Presbyterian Church who shared my honors I express my deep gratitude for the lovely flowers.

'As I return to my 3rd graders I have a heart full of special gratefulness to be able to work and to live here surrounded by such a host of loving friends, topped by the Warren Jaycees.

"Gratefully,

"Sally Weiler"

Leader Proclaims "United Community Campaign" Month

Harrisburg—Governor George M. Leader has proclaimed October to be "United Community Campaign Month" and called on Pennsylvanians to support their local Community Chest and United Fund appeals.

The Governor signed the proclamation in support of the annual campaigns at a ceremony in the capitol Reception Room at 3 p. m. Present for the signing ceremony were representatives of Community Chests, United Funds, agencies, the Pennsylvania United Fund, and labor unions.

The proclamation states:

"Whereas the united community campaigns, conducted each Fall by community Chests and United Funds, are a great effort in support of voluntary health and welfare services in Pennsylvania; and

"Whereas this year thousands of volunteer workers will give unselfishly of their time to seek more than $40,000,000 to maintain vital services during 1958; and

"Whereas the effects of the community campaigns will be felt in every city and town of the Commonwealth, serving our children, teen age boys and girls, members of the Armed Forces, older citizens, chronically ill, blind, handicapped and needy; and

"Whereas Pennsylvania is one of the dozen States whose citizens have organized a State fund, the Pennsylvania United Fund, to help local Community Chests and Funds; and

"Whereas the campaigns of these local Community Chests and Funds take place during the Fall months;

"Now, therefore, I, George M. Leader, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do hereby proclaim the month of October, 1957, to be United Community Campaign Month for the Commonwealth, and I urge my fellow citizens to cooperate with and support their local Community Chests and United Funds."

GOOD DUMMY PLAY SCORES
By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Norman Kay of Merchantville, N. J., looked at the dummy and was not pleased with what he saw. The bidding had been sound but his partner had the wrong cards and it looked as if he would probably have to lose two spades and two hearts.

After the preliminary worry Norman proceeded to make the hand anyway. He won the opening lead in dummy and led a low spade. East went up with the king and led another diamond. Norman won with the ace and looked hopefully to see if East would drop the ten. When this nice card did not fall Norman played a third trump on which East dropped a low heart. West won with the ten and led a third diamond which Norman ruffed with his last trump.

Now Norman led a low heart and ducked in dummy. East won with the eight and returned a low heart but he was dead. Norman won in dummy and led dummy's last trump. Poor East was in a vise. He could not afford to let the queen of hearts go so he discarded a low club. Norman threw away the jack of hearts and all his clubs were now good.

This hand is an example of really excellent dummy play. It is also worthy of note that East could have broken up the squeeze by returning a club when he got in with the king of spades.

PRISCILLA'S POP

By AL VERMEER

AROUND NORTH AMERICA—Heavy black line on Newsmag indicates the 13,000-mile route followed by three U.S. Coast Guard vessels—the cutters Spar, Bramble and Storis—as they made history's first circumnavigation of North America. The Spar will be the first back to her home port, Bristol, R.I. The Bramble and Storis will put in at Boston and then continue on to their home ports, Miami, Fla., and Juneau, Alaska. The cutters were on a Navy mission to supply DEW line bases. A Canadian icebreaker, the Labrador, escorted them on a critical short cut through Bellot Strait (see Newsmag), a short, narrow channel between much larger waterways, seldom attempted by northwest passage explorers. Boxes on Newsmag gave departure dates of the vessels.

Judge Cites Women For Enlarging Role In the Professions

JUDGE A. C. FLICK

The National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, sponsoring National Business Women's Week, are to be congratulated not only on their material contributions to our economy but on the recognition of the responsibility which has followed their entrance into the world of business, profession and the Arts.

Fifty years ago very few women occupied positions in business, industry, or the professions, other than teaching and nursing. Now, more than twenty-eight million are employed outside the home. This is a great change in the pattern of our society. It greatly increases the responsibility of all wives and mothers who are employed. However, since women have always occupied an advanced position of moral responsibility in our civilization, their influence extended beyond the home should prove of immense benefit to our society as a whole.

Alexander C. Flick, Jr.,
President Judge of the 37th Judicial District of Pennsylvania

75 in Attendance At YMCA Conclave Discuss Program

The institution which sponsors a Boy Scout unit is responsible for providing leadership, a meeting place, and a spiritual or moral atmosphere, while the council provides a program and program aids, training for leaders, and facilities for Scouting such as council camps, according to Rev. V. Theodore Benson at the Conclave held at the YMCA on Monday night.

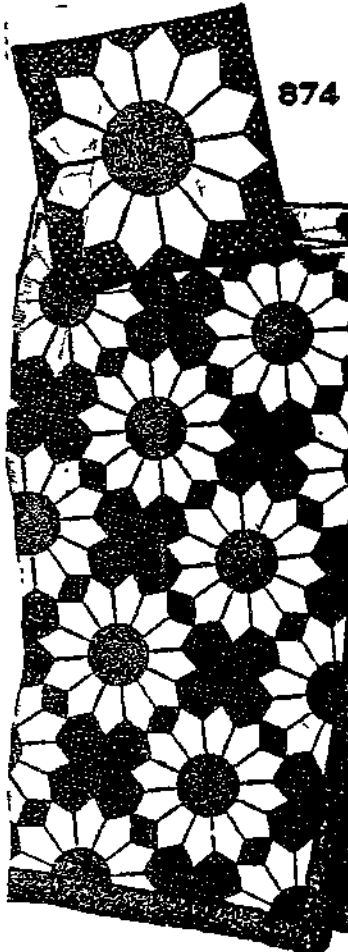

During the evening nearly 75 persons attended the first conclave to be held in Warren county, to learn how the program of Boy Scouting operates. Rev. C. W. Baldwin pronounced the invocation and Field Scout Executive Richard Bauer led in the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

President C. R. Betts presided, and awarded certificates of appreciation to the Russell Volunteer Fire Company and to the North Warren Civic Club, both of which sponsor the whole Scout family.

Elmer Morgan outlined the program for the year, stating that one of the responsibilities of the council was to maintain conditions that make boys want to be Scouts, and that the busy council program for the coming year was designed to do that.

Clayton Bannan met with representatives of institutions which have Scout units to explain the recruiting plan of the Active Membership Campaign, and to assign prospects. Jim Wright met with institutions interested in forming Scout units.

Cookies are so much fun to bake with Jack Frost Sugar! It dissolves so quickly and completely!

DOUBLE-DECKER COOKIES

1½ cup sifted flour • ¾ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt • ¾ cup shortening
1½ cup Jack Frost Granulated Sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla • 2 eggs
2 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
Jack Frost Confectioners Sugar

Sift flour. Measure and sift again with baking powder and salt. Cream shortening. Gradually add sugar and vanilla, creaming until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs. Add flour mixture. Blend well.

Spread half in greased 13x9x2" baking pan. Put chocolate into remaining half. Blend well. Pour over white batter in irregular pattern. Spread to corners.

Bake in moderate oven (375° F) 18 to 20 minutes or until done. Cool slightly. Sprinkle with confectioners sugar. Cut into 24 squares.

Sugar Grove Pastor Informs Pastor of Plans to Resign

Sugar Grove—Rev. David Vennburg, who has served as pastor of the Sugar Grove Covenant Mission church, tendered his resignation to his congregation last Sunday to take effect at the close of the year.

Rev. Vennburg, whose parents reside in Fitchburg, Mass., came to Sugar Grove four years ago and has been very successful in his work. At the present he is teaching liberal arts, for this semester, at the Northern Area Eisenhower High School. He recently returned from a vacation spent with his parents. His father is seriously ill.

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church, entertained the Lander and Lottville societies at the church Thursday evening. Miss Pearl Lund of Warren, was guest speaker and spoke of her missionary work in Japan and Korea. Mrs. Ethel Bloomster conducted the Devotions. Mrs. Rex Jones and Mrs. Hosea Gourley were hostesses.

Mrs. Greta Persson of Halmstad, Sweden, who has spent the summer as a guest of her cousins, Mrs. Frank Ohmer and Albert Johnson, and other relatives and friends in Jamestown and Binghamton, left on September 17th to return to her home on the motorship Kungsholm, from New York. Mr. Johnson accompanied to New York.

Mrs. Conrad Youngberg entertained the Bridge Club Monday evening. Honors went to Mrs. Arthur Cody. Mrs. J. F. Lore and Mrs. Delmar Mickelson were guests.

Jane Russell was honored for her eighth birthday at her home Saturday afternoon when her mother, Mrs. William Russell entertained sixteen children. Games were played with each guest receiving prizes. A decorated birthday cake featured the lunch. Jane received many gifts. Mrs. Russell was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Leonard Kibbey, Pittsfield, and Sally Jordan and Sally Chase.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Briggs and family included the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Bauer and daughter, Esther, and granddaughters, Marilyn and Roberta Baur of Butler.

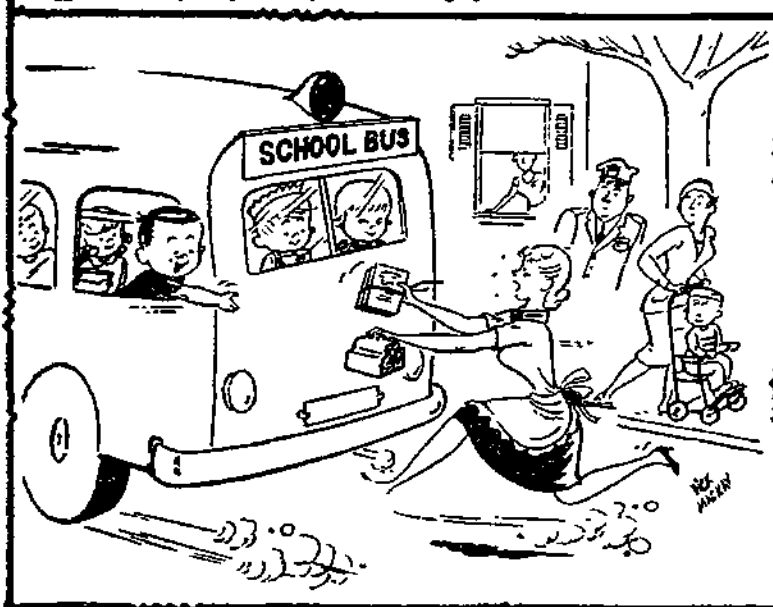

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Storms were weekend guests of their son, Walter and family at Friendship, N. Y.

SUGAR GROVE

Clifford Storms Civil defense director for Sugar Grove was in charge of the observance of Civil Defense Week, when six men from Warren were present. Three pieces of equipment, purchased with the help of Civil Defense funds, were displayed at Memorial Park. Homer Fulmer of Warren was in charge of the Duck and George Truck. Warren County department. The Sugar Grove Fire Truck was the third piece of equipment.

The Women's Missionary society of the Presbyterian Church met for a dessert luncheon meeting at the home of Mrs. Scott Stuart.

Deodorant Has Dainty Scent, Tough Exterior

A brand-new deodorant with a fresh carnation scent is a boon to the girl who's fussy about the type of protection she uses. This one comes in an unbreakable case made of plastic.

BY ALICIA HART, NEA Beauty Editor

KNOCKING things over in the bathroom, with the resultant breakage and spillage, is the kind of minor annoyance that happens to all of us now and then. Knowing this, an increasing number of manufacturers are giving us our beauty preparations in containers of that squishy plastic that is unbreakable.

These are pretty containers, attractive on a bathroom shelf. One of the latest holds a carnation-scented deodorant, one that can neither soil nor leak. It rolls on just enough deodorant for effective 24-hour protection.

This is a handy thing to have for the bathroom at home, for traveling or to keep in a drawer in your desk at the office. The container is designed to occupy a small space and could easily be carried in your handbag.

The deodorant itself will give effective protection against heavier fall and winter clothing and indoor heating, the makers say. It may safely be used with delicate fabrics, they claim, and is right for any normal skin.

Sr. The luncheon featured a lovely decorated cake with the numerals 50 for fiftieth birthday of the society, made by Mrs. John Stuart. The society was organized September 19, 1907. Mrs. Stuart gave a brief history of the society.

The Fall District meeting at Tidoute, October, 3rd was announced. Plans were discussed for having a fiftieth observance of the society, later. Ten members and three guests were present. Mrs. Florence Thorpe a former member, now residing at Bellflower, Calif., was a guest.

Mrs. Elmer Loomis, will be hostess to the October meeting at desert luncheon.

Sustained Effort to Uncover Tuberculosis Cases Earlier

A concerted and sustained effort to uncover tuberculosis cases earlier as a means of combatting this insidious disease is being inaugurated throughout Pennsylvania by the Pennsylvania Department of Health and the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis and Health Society, according to a recent announcement.

This step is being taken to find hidden cases earlier because of the large number of active cases being constantly found although the death rate has been decreasing. This year 14 new active tuberculosis cases daily have been reported to the State Health Department.

An important phase of this effort will be the giving of the tuberculin test which shows whether a person is harboring the TB germ. It is one of the most specific and reliable tests known to medicine. This fact makes it possible to easily and early identify persons who are actual or potential victims of tuberculosis.

Commenting on this move Dr. C. Howard Witmer, president of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis and Health Society, said today that "only by planning and working together can community groups realize the dream of a community safe from tuberculosis."

Dr. Witmer pointed out that as the "deaths from tuberculosis decrease the problem of finding hidden cases grows tougher. The problem of follow-up faces every community. Due to faulty planning, the shortage of facilities or money, a case-finding program may not achieve its life saving possibilities because of a lack of a well executed follow-up."

Three regional conferences to promote this early tuberculosis case finding effort will be conducted by the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis and Health Society. The first will be held in Pittsburgh at Webster Hall on September 17 and 18. Others will be conducted September 24 and 25 at Hershey and October 1 and 2 at Allentown.

The speakers will include Dr. M. C. Stayer, Dr. William Kraus and Anthony W. Calie, from the Division of Tuberculosis Control, of the State Department of Health. Other speakers will include Dr. Donald J. Ottenberg, Philadelphia, and Frank Gibson, New York representing the National Tuberculosis Association.

In connection with the meetings special afternoon sessions in each city will be held by the Pennsylvania Division of Tuberculosis Control for radiologists and chest physicians who interpret X-ray survey films. In addition a similar meeting for Philadelphia physicians will be held September 12 at Lankenau Hospital, Overbrook.

To promote the giving of the tuberculin test a "Guide for Tuberculin Testing in Pennsylvania" was developed by the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society, medical section of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis and Health Society. Physicians on the committee represented the State Department of Health, the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society, the Henry Phipps Institute, the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis and Health Society, and the Pennsylvania Conference of Tuberculosis Workers.

Physicians advise that each child and adult should have a tuberculin test as part of a routine physical examination—and should be retested at least once each year if negative. A minimum program of tuberculin testing among children includes the three age groups of one, six and sixteen years.

"The physician has a key position in any case finding program," said Dr. Witmer. "General practitioners, radiologists, and chest physicians are primarily interested in diagnosis and treatment of the tuberculosis patient. Members of the medical society can strengthen the case finding project by encouraging patients to have annual chest X-rays. Tuberculosis being a communicable disease, it cannot be conquered until every case is found."

Sheffield—The Loyalty Bible Class of the Bethany Lutheran Church, had a social hour in the church parlors, with thirty-two members present, Tuesday evening. Colored slides were shown by Mrs. Evelyn P. Gailor. After an hour of entertainment, the members were served coffee at a tea table decorated with fall flowers and tapers. Mrs. William Dalton, president of the class, poured. This was the third group of the class, having a mock bake sale as their project, bringing in over forty dollars. Mrs. Dalton presented a farewell gift to Mrs. George Ledebur.

The Home Builders class of the First Lutheran church held their September meeting in the church parlors. A turkey dinner was served at 6:30 p. m. Mrs. A. S. Brown was elected president to succeed Mrs. W. O. Christenson who resigned. Other officers are Mrs. Kay Moore, vice president, Mrs. C. E. Taylor, secretary and Mrs. Claude Landers, treasurer.

The October meeting will be at the home of Eva Brown, with Mrs. Irvine Howarth, program chairman.

The Sheffield Township Schools will be closed on Friday, when the elementary teachers will meet in the Gailor Auditorium, Lincoln School, at 9 a. m. Miss Edna Mae Bruggeman, reading consultant of the Scott-Foresman Publishing Company, will be present to assist in reading problems. The Junior and Senior high school teachers will meet in the high school at one p. m. Both groups will meet in Lincoln School.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ledebur are leaving for Silver Springs, Md. to make their future home.

Friends are very sorry to learn of the Retta Pinney's misfortune, a fractured wrist, received in a fall on her porch.

The Lincoln School Parent-Teacher Association had its first meeting of the new term Wednesday evening. Rev. Jack Parson led the devotionals, and was in charge of the program. Two selections were given by Diane Lesseman, and Becky Farnsworth; vocal solo, Nancy Belcher, accompanied by Mrs. Evelyn Anderson.

Rev. Parson assisted by Mrs. Parson presented the teachers with a corsage from the organization. Also receiving a corsage was Mrs. John Johnson, the wife of the fifth grade teacher. Speakers for the evening were Mrs. Dorothy Gustafson, principal, and Thomas Bar-

OBITUARIES

FUNERAL INFORMATION WILL BE FOUND UNDER ANOTHER HEADING

JOE W. KERR

Titusville Herald: Joe W. Kerr, 55, of 411 N. Petroleum St., died suddenly at 10 a. m. Tuesday while at work at the Universal-Cyclops Steel Corp.

He was working in the shipping department when he was stricken with a heart attack and apparently succumbed instantly. He was pronounced dead in the first aid room of the plant.

Mr. Kerr had worked at the Cyclops plant most of his adult life. Born Aug. 20, 1902, in Titusville, he was a lifelong resident here. His parents were Robert and Etta Kalkfelde Kerr.

Mr. Kerr married Audrey V. Kellogg in Titusville in 1930. He was a member of the First Baptist Church and the Titusville IOOF, of which he was a past noble grand.

MRS. BESSIE CARSON

Mrs. Bessie E. Carson, 73, lifelong resident of Pleasantville, died at 8 o'clock Tuesday night in the Titusville Hospital after suffering a stroke one week ago. Although she was not in good health for the past three years, she did not become seriously ill until the past week.

She was born Aug. 27, 1884, at Jerusalem Corners, a daughter of George and Linda Renninger Spangler. She was married to George Carson on Sept. 9, 1909. He preceded her in death in 1944.

Mrs. Carson was a member of the Pleasantville Evangelical United Brethren Church, the Missionary Society, Ladies Aid and Adult Bible Class of the church.

She leaves two daughters and one son, Mrs. Marjorie Tracy of Pleasantville, Mrs. Ruth Johnson of Tionesta and Edgar Carson of Titusville, RD 2; eight grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. Frances Fasnemyer of Titusville.

MRS. LENORE CLARK

Services in memory of Mrs. Lenore Clark, of Grand Valley, who died in the Warren General Hospital Wednesday morning of injuries sustained in a two-car accident on Route 27 last Sunday morning, will be held at Youngsville Saturday afternoon at two o'clock. The Rev. F. Eugene Donelson, Youngsville, will be assisted by the Rev. Floyd Martin, Pittsfield. Burial will be in Warren County Memorial Park.

NEAL JOHN KENT

Funeral services in memory of Neal John Kent, of Warren R. D. No. 1, who died on Sunday, were held from St. Joseph's Church Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, with Father Pocco Tito, assistant pastor of the church, celebrating the requiem high Mass. Interment took place in St. Bonaventure's Cemetery at Allegheny, N. Y., with the following serving as bearers, Charles Balett, Harold Keys, John Haggerty, Delbert Dries, Eugene Stanton, and Francis Brisse.

Superintendent of Mails At Post Office Resigns

The Warren Post Office has suffered another loss in its top management staff through the retirement of J. W. Woodruff, for the past several years the efficient and accommodating Superintendent of Mails. While his retirement is not actually effective until October 1, Mr. Woodruff turned over the Superintendent's desk to his successor, C. Willard Smith, last Friday to start a long-postponed vacation.

Jack, as he is known to just about everyone in Warren, began his postal career as a substitute clerk in the Warren office April 1, 1921 and thus spent a total of over 36 years there. He rose steadily through the ranks and has held, at one time or another, almost every position in the office. Jack was and is extremely popular, not only among his associates, but also with the public whom he served so efficiently. From both he is receiving best wishes for a long, well-earned life of ease and good fishing, which his retirement will make possible.

Pertinent Facts About Warren Told to Kiwanians

Guest speaker at the weekly luncheon meeting of Warren Kiwanis Club Wednesday noon at the YWCA was Floyd Clinger, who spoke on the past, present and future of Warren, stating that gas, oil and lumber production of the past was correlated with the future which looks good for lumber and oil. Mr. Clinger further stated the St. Lawrence Sea Way is very promising in conjunction with the National forest, which will include a pulp mill if highways are improved also, and added that the Kinzua Dam will improve on recreation and water level, which is very important any place in this country.

Cliff Berts, chairman of the committee on attendance, has declared next Wednesday, October 2, as perfect attendance day. All members will be telephoned and all are requested to phone the member whose name appears opposite theirs on the bulletin.

AERO SUPPLY SOLD

An Associated Press dispatch from Erie says Leo Strauss, president of Aero Supply Corp., of Corry, has announced the sale today of the firm to an unidentified Corry group. Terms of the transaction were not disclosed. Aero Supply, a manufacturer of component aircraft parts, employed to 1,000 during World War II. Recent employment averaged about 150 workers. Strauss said the new owners plan to keep the two-story plant operational.

DST LIKELY TO CONTINUE

Borough Manager George Geracimos said today that in all likelihood Daylight Savings Time will continue until Oct. 27 as ordered by Council in the spring. Complaints about early morning darkness from farmers, plant workers and mothers of school children had led to some talk of a special Council session to end DST this Sunday but too many complications, such as insufficient notice, have apparently worked against the idea, according to Geracimos. Some communities, however, such as Meadville, have updated the end of DST from the end of October to the end of September.

Organizational Session of Hi-Y Is Held This Week

The first Hi-Y club meeting of the year was held Wednesday evening at seven o'clock in the YMCA with president Bill Elmhurst, presiding. Boy's director, Jeff Riedel, gave a brief outline of club goals for the future, after which there was a lively discussion of club projects. An activities committee was formed with Bob August as chairman, Pat Madden and John Rapp, committee members.

A nominating committee to select officers was named. Jim Alexander is chairman, with Larry Moyer and Dick Elmhurst. Officers will be filled at the next meeting, voting by ballot. Nominations will be accepted from the floor.

The next meeting will be held on Wednesday, October 3, 7:00 p. m., at the Y.M. All high school boys interested in joining are welcome to attend, fee fifty cents.

When the business meeting adjourned at eight o'clock, the boys proceeded to the pool for a water polo game. There will be a game next week also.

Many plans are under way for an active year. Plans are in the making for a movie party to attend the showing of the "Ten Commandments" at the Library Theatre, for which special tickets at a lower price will be available.

Further information on Hi-Y can be had by contacting Bill Elmhurst, Pat Madden or Jeff Riedel, at 1000.

And the President was pleased, Hagerty reported, that there had been no fresh outbreak of violence of the kind that occurred in Little Rock Monday.

The Southern Governors' Conference adopted a resolution saying: "The situation in Little Rock is a matter of grave concern. It is imperative that a constructive solution be found."

A committee of this conference appointed by its chairman, should request a conference or conferences with the President and the governor of Arkansas, separately or jointly, seeking the withdrawal of federal troops from Arkansas at the earliest possible moment."

Shortly after the request for a meeting with Eisenhower was received in Newport, Hagerty told a news conference: "Of course, when a committee of governors requests a conference with the President, the President always will see them."

FATAL JOKE

Somerset, (AP)—A 31-year-old Somerset County coal operator drowned in a strip mine pool yesterday after a friend quoted him as saying he wasn't afraid to jump into the water. attending the calm entrance of the Negroes who arrived for class under Army guard and leisurely walked in the front door relaxed and laughing.

Faubus broke a daylong silence last night to say: "... I will make a report by radio and television on the situation in Little Rock and Arkansas to my people and the nation. I have no further comment at this time on the naked force being employed by the federal government against the people of my state."

Nine Negroes made history in this city's racial struggle yesterday when they attended classes at the formerly all-white school.

Never before had United States troops been used to enforce public school integration.

The Negroes were driven to school in an Army station wagon and a score of paratroopers with fixed bayonets conveyed them from the vehicle into the school.

Within, other armed soldiers guarded doors to their classrooms and marched with them in the corridors when they changed classes. When school ended, the three Negro boys and six girls were guarded again as they walked to the station wagon that had brought them.

Long before school let out, about 450 troops of the 101st Airborne Division had quelled a number of outbreaks of minor violence in the school area.

One white civilian, C. E. Blake, was clubbed with a rifle butt. The Army said he tried to take a rifle away from a paratrooper. Paul Downs suffered a bayonet stab in his right arm when he failed to move on the soldiers' orders. Both men bled profusely.

No clusters of persons were permitted near the school. The soldiers cleared an area ranging from a block to three blocks from the campus.

A helicopter hovered overhead to spot any gatherings and inform the ground troops.

About 750 students stayed away from the 2,000-pupil school and a number left after the Negroes came in. Many who departed said the presence of the nine caused them to go.

The Army arrested seven persons, all adults, and turned them over to civilian authorities.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Editor,
Warren Times-Mirror
Warren, Pa.

Dear Sir:
Within the last week there have appeared in your paper two articles concerning World Fellowship and understanding. As I read them I was reminded of a bit of advice I once heard. I think it is worth repeating at this time:

"Study Geography until there is no foreign land, and study humanity until there is no foreign man."

Perhaps we cannot attain perfection in this endeavor, but I do believe there would be a better understanding among the nations of the world if each knew the other better.

Charles Lamb once sat in his study and as he looked on the street below and saw a man passing, he said, "I hate that man." His friend said to him, "Do you know him?" Charles Lamb said, "No, I don't really know him. If I did, I suppose I would not hate him." If peoples of the various countries knew each other better, would there not be a better understanding and more cooperation throughout the world?

Your editorial of one week ago stated that the Attache to the Ambassador from Iraq is to speak at an open meeting in Grace Methodist church on October 15. I am sure this will be both instructive and interesting. I plan to be there. I am sure many will want to hear the message brought to us by this representative from the land once known as Mesopotamia, but now the country of Iraq, one of the United Nations.

Sincerely,
Robert R. Young

Jurors in Confidential Magazine Trial Still Out

Los Angeles, (AP)—Jurors in the Confidential magazine criminal libel conspiracy trial begin their ninth day of deliberation today.

There was nothing from the jury room to indicate that they were near a verdict.

The length of deliberations was approaching the California record of 13 days.

The jurors yesterday were furnished face masks to protect them from germs after one of them came down with a cold.

SPEAKING OF WAISTLINES

Raymondville, Tex., (AP)—Zeta XI Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority figured to pad its treasury by making each member forfeit one penny for every inch of waistline. Mrs. John Bruce, chapter president, said it turned out the members and the pickings were pretty slim. At most they forfeited 30 cents. The minimum penalty was 25 cents.

One Last Big Rhubarb Ends Softball Season as Cullys Win It by Disqualification

Texas Lunch battled everyone including the umpire last night to take out an 8 to 6 win over Culligans in the City Softball League playoff series.

But as it turned out, the Texans had fought too long, too loud and too hard this time. Umpire Mel Bines, after a part-vocal part-physical rhubarb at the plate, suggested Texas Lunch be disqualified from further play, thus awarding the playoff series and league crown to Culligans.

This morning league President Frank Fries upheld Umpire Bines' recommendation, thereby awarding a league crown by executive action rather than actual play for the first time within memory in Warren sports.

Had the game been allowed to stand as ended, Texas would have had one playoff game to their credit. Culligans two, in what was to have been a best-of-five playoff series.

Texas took an early, third-inning lead of 8-0 last night behind the big bats of Warmie Check, Jack White and Bill Brown who collected 7 of 10 Texas hits. Bob Harrison would have notched his first win of the playoff by allowing 9 hits and 4 walks. Bob Schenck and "Monk" Carlson led the Culligan attack with two hits each.

Reserved Seat Ticket Sale For Saturday's "Homecoming"

The Warren Jaycees are reminding all Warren football fans that reserved seat tickets for the home bid-after between undefeated Titusville and Warren may be purchased until 11 a. m. Saturday at the United Cigar Store, B & B Smoke Shop and Mack's News Room.

A reserved seat ticket assures the Warren fan an excellent view of the game and half-time festivities, which will include crowning of Warren High School's first homecoming queen, presentation of the 1927 Dragon team and the eighty musicians of the Dragon Band. A large crowd is expected for this event as Titusville is undefeated and Warren fans recall the battle last year between the Dragons and the Rockets. Be sure you have a reserved seat for this game. A donation of 25 cents to the War Memorial Field Fund is the price of a reserved seat. This donation does not include the price of admission to the football game.

The Jaycees hope that in addition to purchasing reserved seat tickets the fans will take advantage of the parking lot and concession stands. The parking fee is 25 cents, which is also a donation to War Memorial Field Fund. The Jaycees urge all Warren football fans to support their team by attending all home games. Will you be there?

The Hour Is Late—
Perhaps Too Late—
But—People of Warren—

ARE YOU DAM SURE?

We, the members of the "Save The Valley Committee," formed recently at a public meeting at Kinzua, would like to ask you a few questions. The questions are listed below. A few minutes of your reading time will be appreciated. Please remember as you read these questions, we too are for flood control when it is really flood control, and after ALL phrases are studied fairly.

Here, then, are our questions:
...why have other methods such as smaller head-water tributary dams, and diversion methods, and flood walls, never been studied?

...is it possible to obtain true flood control in another way, or manner of ways, that would not hurt so many, so much?

...if the so-called Kinzua Dam is so important as stressed by Army Engrs., why has it been so many years under consideration, the last to be built?

...have you ever checked into the possibility that you, and thousands of other tax payers are being played "For Suckers" by having your tax money enable polluters to continue to pollute, for additional polluters to start new pollution; for railroad companies to get better grades, for free, and for the citizenry of Pittsburgh to save on soap bills—all under the guise of flood control?

...why does the press and radio mainly give only one side of this so-called flood control, is it because of the lack of facts, or the presence of pressure?

...if, as the press and radio (via Army Engrs.) would have you believe, recreation is to be such an important by-product of this project, why have such organizations as the Allegheny County League of Sportsmen, the Penna. Federation of Sportsmen Clubs and the National Izaak Walton League, opposed the Kinzua Dam?

...speaking of recreation, have you ever walked along the mud caked, mosquito filled, dead appearing shore lines of any flood control dam? If you haven't, we recommend the back water shore lines of Tionesta Dam for your inspection.

...again speaking of recreation, have you ever observed the already existing recreation all along the upper Allegheny River and it's feeder streams; growing recreation that is still in its infancy, and most important of all, NATURAL RECREATION that would be lost forever?

...do you as a Warrentite fully appreciate this valley of yours and ours, this valley as it now stands, natural and without equal in eastern U. S. We respectfully suggest that that next time you drive Route 59 up our way, you stop at the big curve on the hill just before you enter Kinzua, look up river, and ask yourself this question.

...has your town, as a town, through your Chamber of Commerce and civic organizations, taken full advantage and fully recognized the unmatched and unlimited potential of this valley as it always has been, is now, and should remain, such as hunting, fishing, canoeing, camping, Indian lore and historical background?

...could proper plans and work on Conewango Creek eliminate much of Warren's flood problems?

...in all truthfulness, hasn't some flood damage of the past been rather "asked for," simply by improper planning and building?

...we, like you, never contemplate enemy bombing on U. S. flood control dams, but do you think the citizens along the Mohne River in Germany thought otherwise about their dam—until we did it?

...why not get the facts on seepage trouble being had at other such constructed dams?

...what was back of the lobbying efforts in support of this dam (efforts that prevailed) by a large Ohio industrial firm?

...if this dam really assures flood control for the city of Pittsburgh, why have Mr. Brotsman's indisputable figures for water level all along the Allegheny during the 9 major Pittsburgh floods (figures that prove such a dam 200 miles upstream won't work), been ignored?

...is it sincerely or big business that makes for such a team as a Democratic U. S. Senator, a Democratic Big City Mayor and a Republican Rural Congressman being lined up together?

...are engineering viewpoints concerning public projects to be expressed only by the combination of politicians and Army Engrs. to the exclusion of top rank private engineers and Mr. John Q. Public?

...lastly, is your town of Warren, Pa., fully awake to the already existing wonderfulness and future possibilities, of and in, this valley we wish to preserve—or will it soon lie asleep a short ways below a wall of water 13 feet higher than Niagara Falls, held back by man-made means, and covering land, part of which was taken by breaking a Treaty given in good faith by our forefathers, and by ignoring a Constitution inherited by you from those same forefathers?

...THINK IT OVER.

College Football's "Other" Teams Get Crack This Weekend

By JIM KENSIL
The Associated Press

College football's "other" teams get a crack at glory this weekend. Mighty Oklahoma is idle.

While Bud Wilkinson's speedy Sooners take a Saturday off, Michigan State, Michigan, Minnesota, Iowa and Tennessee are geared to start gunning for the national championship won by Oklahoma the last two years and predicted again in The Associated Press pre-season poll.

Oklahoma, whose next opponent is Iowa State Oct. 5, smacked down Pittsburgh 26-0 Saturday for its 41st straight victory since 1953. Pitt, eighth in the early pickings, was considered the top team in the East, but was no match for the Sooners who unveiled a cagey new quarterback in Carl Dodd. Oklahoma halfback Clendon Thomas, the nation's leading major college scorer in 1956, did most of the ball-carrying damage, although three Sooner scores came on tricky aerials, all by different passers.

Iowa's defending Big Ten champions and Michigan should have it the easiest in trying to match Oklahoma's impressive debut. The Hawkeyes meet Utah State, and the Wolverines face Southern California, already soundly whipped by Pacific Coast king Oregon

State, 20-0. But Minnesota runs up against a tough Washington outfit that tied Colorado's Orange Bowl winner 6-6; Michigan State opens with conference rival Indiana and Tennessee must handle Auburn, a Southeastern Conference comer. The two Michigan elevens and Minnesota are rated the best bets to pluck Iowa's crown, and all four, along with Tennessee, were ranked among the nation's top 10 teams.

Overshadowed by the Oklahoma power spurge were strong showings by Georgia Tech, 13-0 over Kentucky; Houston, 7-0 over always-rough Miami, Fla., and Navy, 46-6 over Boston College.

Georgia Tech must come back this week against Southern Methodist, a surprise 13-6 victor over California. Houston is faced with Baylor, the Southwest Conference's choice to finish second behind Texas A&M before Villanova pushed the Bears to the limit, going under 7-0. Navy meets William and Mary, 7-0 loser to George Washington.

Big Texas teams opened winners, but the Aggies had their No. 2 pre-season rating tarnished as they found Maryland unexpectedly troublesome before winning 21-13. Texas Tech should be an easy foe for the Aggies this Saturday. Texas stopped Georgia 26-7, Rice defeated LSU 20-14 and Arkansas whipped Oklahoma State 12-0. Duke licked South Carolina 26-14 in a key Atlantic Coast Conference battle, but can not ease off against Virginia which held Southern Conference favorite West Virginia to a 6-6 standoff. The latter has a tough conference opener with Virginia Tech coming up.

Clemson, the ACC's, last Orange Bowl representative, rolled over Presbyterian 66-0 and rates the nod this week over North Carolina beaten 7-0 by neighbor N. C. State.

Denver Thumps Bisons Again by Score of 9-1

Denver (AP)—Denver's explosive American Assn. playoff champions, at home in mile high air, are firmly in the driver's seat entering the third game of the best-of-7 Little World Series tonight.

They thumped Buffalo of the International League, 9-1, last night to go two games up in the title series.

The Bears throw Johnny Gabler, 12-8, at the Bisons in the final series game here. Buffalo again will try a lefthander, this time Rip Coleman, 7-5, in its quest for a playoff triumph.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

By The Associated Press

Pitching—Billy Hoelt, Tigers, blanked White Sox on five hits 5-0, striking out eight and walking but two.

Hitting—Vic Wertz, Indians; Frank Malzone, Red Sox, both drove in four runs and hit a pair of homers; Wertz smacked successive two-run shots in the eighth and ninth that defeated the Athletics 9-7; Malzone's second broke up a tie game in the 11th for a 7-6 decision over the Senators.

Fabulous Home Run Hitter Is Secured Again by Pirates

Pittsburgh (AP)—Dick Stuart, the fabulous home-run hitting sensation of the minors who failed this year to stick with the Pittsburgh Pirates, will get another chance.

The Pirates announced today an exchange of players with their Hollywood farm club in the Pacific Coast League. Stuart was included among the players acquired from Hollywood.

Others from Hollywood put on the Pirate roster are pitcher John Lamabe and outfielder Emil Panko.

In exchange for the three players, the Pirates gave these players to Hollywood: Pitchers Clarence Churn, Donald Kildoo, Gonzalo Naranjo and Joe Trimble, and shortstop Ken Hamlin.

Stuart, who hit 66 home runs for Lincoln, Neb. in 1956 got a chance with the Pirates at their spring training camp this year. But he was sent to Hollywood, then to Atlanta and finally back to Lincoln. He wound up with a total of 47 homers—then came to Pittsburgh for special instruction by George Sisler, a member of the Pirate coaching staff.

Braves Can Claim the Hardest Hitting Infield in the Majors

By BEN OLAN
New York Sept. 26 (AP)—Joe Adcock, Red Schoendienst, Johnny Logan and Eddie Mathews represent the hardest hitting infield in the major leagues.

Only first baseman Adcock from among these four is rated less than a superior fielder. And he likely will be replaced by Frank Torre, a defensive standout, when the occasion demands.

For these reasons, the Milwaukee Braves' infield rates a decided edge over the New York Yankees' group that will take the field in the World Series which opens next Wednesday afternoon.

The Yankees' infield picture is far from clear. The big question is whether first baseman Bill Skowron, a 304 righthanded batter with good power will be able to play.

Manager Casey Stengel would like to have Skowron in the lineup, particularly against Warren Spahn, the Braves' southpaw ace, who is a cinch to work the opening game, but Skowron has been sidelined since Sept. 13 with a sacroiliac condition.

Should Skowron be unavailable Stengel's infield for the opener probably will shape up this way: first base—Harry Simpson; second base—Bobby Richardson or Gerry Coleman; shortstop—Gil McDougald; third base—Andy Carey. Carey likely will be replaced by Jerry Lumpe against Milwaukee's righthanded pitchers Lew Burdette and Bob Buhl.

The home run figures of the infielders are most revealing. The Milwaukee regulars have accounted for 69—Mathews 32, Schoendienst 15, Adcock 12 and Logan 10. And Adcock's production is misleading since he was out for two months with a fractured leg.

For the Yanks, Skowron has 17 circuit blows, McDougald 13, Coleman one and Carey six for a total of 37. Simpson has 12 while Lumpe and Richardson have yet to connect.

Only at shortstop where McDougald gets the nod over Logan, do the Yankee infielders compare favorably with Milwaukee's. Gil is batting .290 to Logan's .277 and the New York star is just a bit better defensively.

Quarterback Marchibroda Signs to Play With Cards

Pittsburgh (AP)—Quarterback Ted Marchibroda, released Monday after three seasons with the Pittsburgh Steelers, left for Chicago today where he'll play with the National Football League Cardinals.

Marchibroda, the Steelers' No. 1 draft choice in 1954, said last night he had agreed to terms with the Cardinals.

"I got a good deal from the Cardinals," he commented. "I plan to move my family to Chicago for the rest of the football season but I intend to make Pittsburgh my permanent home after I am through playing football."

He played college football with St. Bonaventure and Detroit University.

Magistrates to Take Course in Procedure

The Warren - Forest County Branch of the Pennsylvania Magistrates Association has received approval from the Public Service Institute of the Department of Public Instruction for a course in Minor Court Procedure and Traffic School. The Department of Public Instruction approved Attorney

Samuel F. Bonavita as the instructor for the class.

At a meeting of the Magistrates Association held on September 24, the Magistrates Association voted to commence classes on October 1, 1957. They also voted to extend an invitation to all constables and duly appointed regular police officers of the County to attend the school which will be held every Tuesday evening at 7:30 p. m. in the small court room of the Warren County Court House.

Last year the Magistrates Association conducted a course in Criminal Law and Procedure which was completed by sixteen members. With the approval of the course by the Public Service Institute, Certificates of Attainment will be issued to those attending 80% of the twelve sessions. It is anticipated guest speakers for the course will include H. W. Pierce, Supervisor of the Public Service Institute, Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr., Judge of the 37th Judicial District, M. A. Carringer, author of Committing Magistrates and Summary Convictions and Attorney H. S. Hampson, who conducted the course on Civil Law and Procedure.

AROUND THE WORLD

IT'S JUST TOO MUCH—Napoleon, a basset hound in St. Louis, Mo., looks sadder than ever after an encounter with an auto. He's got one hind leg in a splint for the moment, but he's still able to get around. Not fast enough to chase cars, however.

FOR CAPITALISTIC POWER—Formerly named the Molotov, before that old Bolshevik had the rug pulled out from under him in Moscow, the Russian liner Baltika is shown in a London drydock. New British propellers are being fitted to replace Soviet make. It is presumed that the Russians decided to use English screws because they are made of a new aluminum-nickel-bronze alloy.

PRETTIER THAN MOST—This pert gal in the bathing suit is Joann Dannelsback, of Camden, N. J. She's shown at Lake Quinsigamond, near Worcester, Mass., where she was helping her husband. The attractive blonde was serving as a mechanic for him while he competed in races on the lake. And Joann is better looking than most mechanics. She might be a better worker, too.

END OF SUMMER—Green-eyed Joni Dell was right out in the open to enjoy a renewed hot spell at New York's Jones Beach. Joni wanted to loll in the sands and slowly absorb a can of soda pop instead of dashing in and out of the water. She's making good use of the sun at season's end.

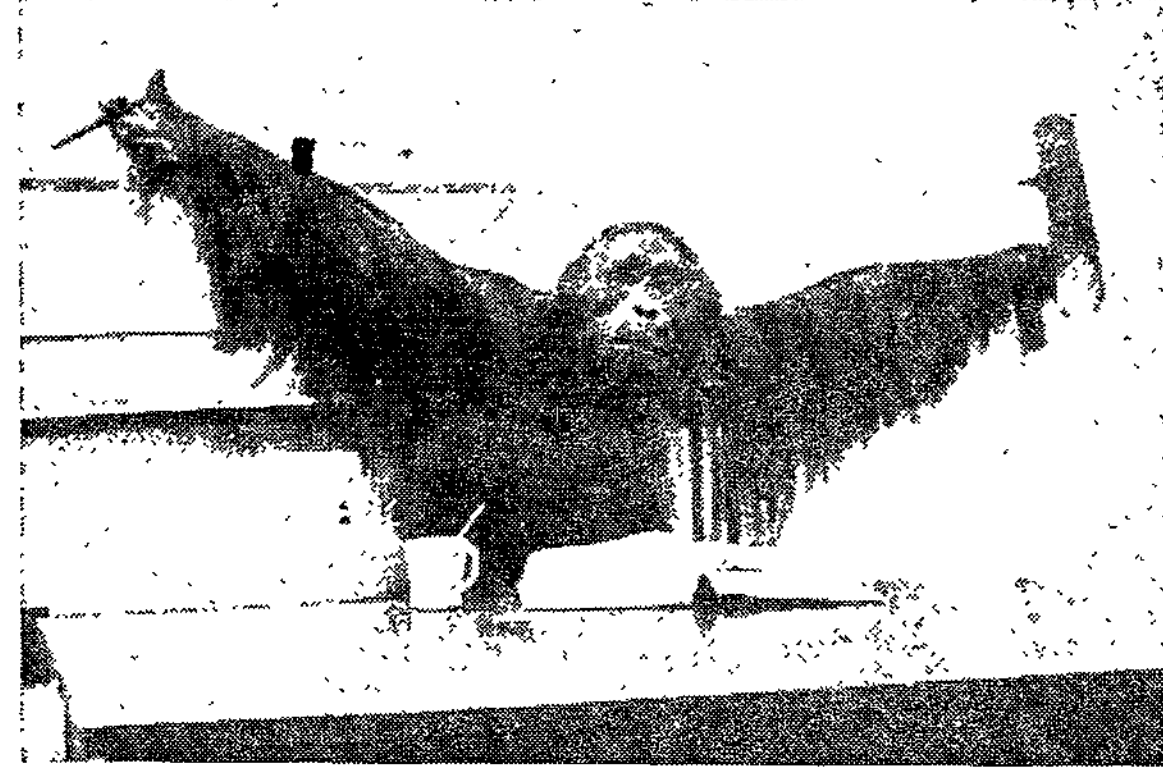

NO LAUGHING MATTER—Claude U. Shipley, of Reno, Nev., is greatly amused at the appearance of William G. Pearson, Jr., in Miami Beach. Pearson is wearing the uniform of a Russian officer that was displayed there during the Veterans of Foreign Wars' National Convention.

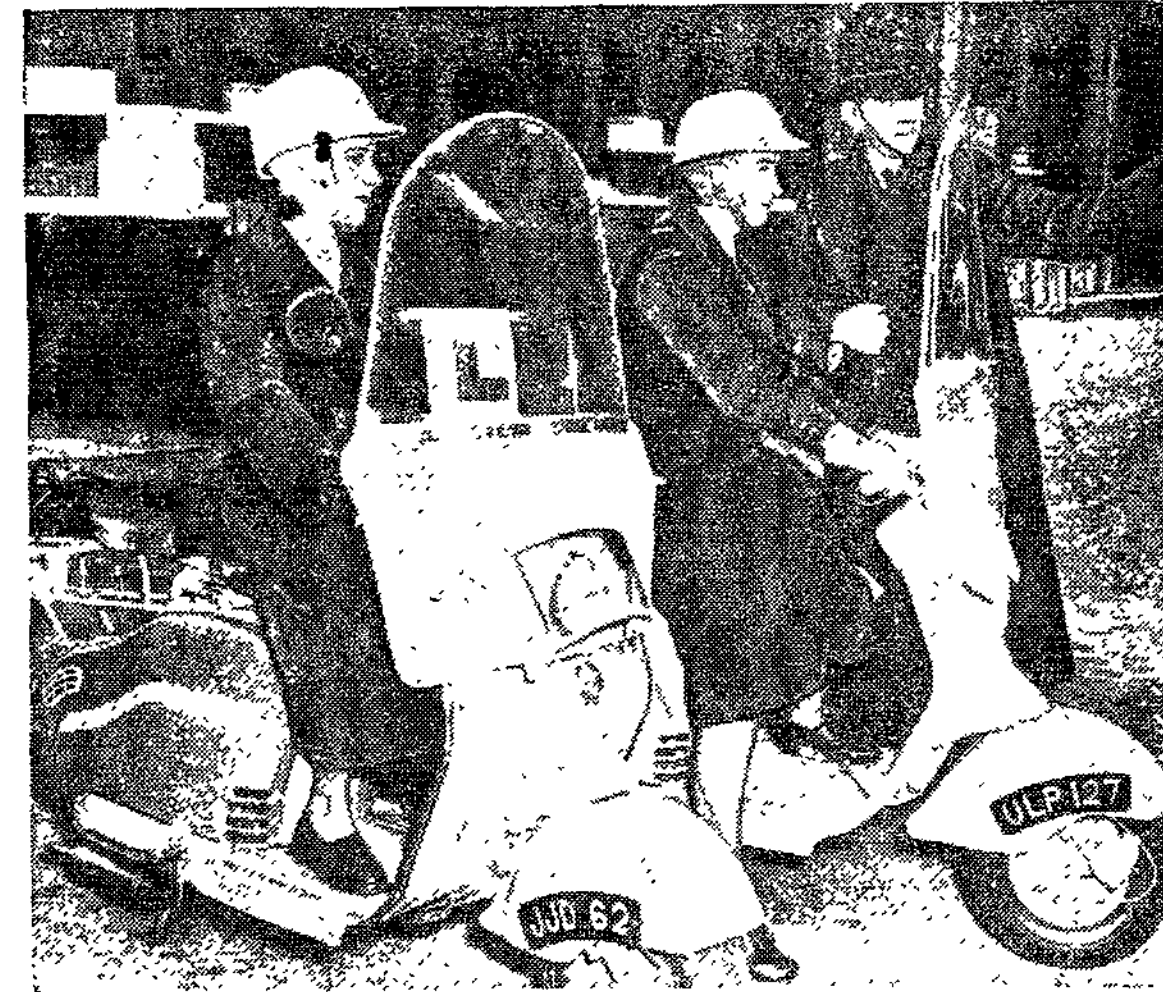

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT—Just before opening on Broadway in "Mask and Gown," T. C. Jones got a few backstage pointers from actress Judy Holliday, right. Billed as the world's foremost female impersonator, Jones does take offs on Judy and other famous stars in his one-man show.

HE SINGS, TOO—Tony Perkins, Hollywood's new star, is preparing to test his talent in a new sphere in Los Angeles. He's signed a recording contract with RCA to sing for the "pop" market and is ready to belt one out.

HE'S GOT THE IDEA—With pupils returning to school all over the country, a monkey at the Natural Museum in Cleveland seems to think he should go, too. He's posing at a desk before an open book with a pen in one hand and a tree branch in the other.

GETTING THERE FASTER—They don't need wings because these angels of mercy get around London on scooters to visit patients throughout the city. The two nurses are receiving directions from a policeman before they start out to comfort their patients.

BIRD IN HAND?—No, but it may soon be in a net if this "hunter" has his way in New York's City Hall Park. A day-long bird hunt was triggered there when a local radio show intimated that a "white bird with purple spots" could be found with a thousand dollar bill attached to it. The American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals put a stop to the chase after it got a lot of complaints.

IT'S A GIANT STEP—Giant hurler Curt Barclay is doing a very fancy one-step as he hops about after fouling a pitch while trying to bunt in the 5th inning of the Giants-Braves game in New York. Behind him, catcher Del Crandall hustles out to retrieve the ball. Barclay needed relief but he was the winning pitcher as the Giants won, 12-6.

THING OF THE MOMENT—Three schoolboys in Clarion, N. H., are looking at a six-inch green caterpillar, commonly called a "tomato bug," and scientifically known as Crecoptia. Their interested expressions may be caused by their knowledge that the insect will become a beautiful multi-colored butterfly—if it survives their manhandling.

A HOME WE LIKE!!

And we're sure you will like it, too! Just listed this Garrison Colonial style home not quite 2 years old. It's nicer than new because of many added features.

To the women we say you'll admire the large kitchen with all the birch cabinets and ample workspace of Panacea, plus a Formica breakfast bar. A large living room across the front of the home plus a nice dining room completes the first floor.

There are three bedrooms and a tile bath on the second floor. And there is hardwood on both floors.

To the men we say the game room in the basement is ideal for recreation or hobby room. The 75'x175' landscaped lot is situated in a restricted residential area on outskirts of town in Pleasant Twp. where taxes are reasonable.

The hot water heating system plus insulation means money saved but a snug home in the winter. Of course the storm windows and doors help also.

This home is of frame construction with a brick front. There is also a one-stall attached garage.

The owner has been transferred . . . or this home would not be for sale. If you are planning to build . . . or if you want a quality new home . . . You can't go wrong on this one for $17,900. Details gladly furnished and shown by appointment only by contacting:
